FROM now until at least the seventeenth of December, for the world court resolution comes up for action in the senate, meetings will be held all over the country to urge favorable action. It is known that there are more than enough votes in the senate to pass the resolution, and it is demonstrated that the articulate voice of America is by enormous preponderance for the court.

Both parties and all factions, including pro-league and anti-league, and practically every responsible voice of organized opinion in America, have expressed themselves as upholding the position of the president. The house of representatives has so voted, by more than ten to one.

But the majority still needs the support of the hitherto inarticulate mass of the people in order to strengthen its hands against the possible victorious obstruction of the minority. These meetings will give the people information and means of expression.

But these pro-court meetings ought not to be the only ones. The people are entitled to hear the other side also. In fact, they ought especially to hear that. When there is such an overwhelming preponderance of organized opinion on one side, the burden of proof is on those who propose to obstruct the policy thus favored to show why they are right, as against the majority.

The senators who propose to vote against adherence to the court ought to be out on the stump now, conducting an active campaign of education of their constituents. Otherwise they will be leaving the field to their opponents. They can not win by silence.

If, on full discussion, they can not win them by facts and arguments, either, perhaps they might conclude that they were mistaken, and change their votes, or at least their obstructive tactics. At any rate, if a campaign of education is to go on, both sides should do it.

ONE weapon of war is too dangerous to use against even rats. That is disease germs. The California Board of Health has vetoed a proposition to combat rats by spreading disease among them. Theoretically, if some disease could be found to which rats were susceptible, but to which human beings and all useful animals were immune, that would be an ideal way of getting rid of man's smartest and most persistent enemy. But the health authorities hold that not enough is known of diseases to be sure that even the rattiest of rat diseases might not spread pestilence elsewhere.

So the rats will be shot, drowned, smothered, poisoned, starved and trapped, but not infected.

PESTILENCE is one thing in which we are all in the same boat. For the same reason that we do not dare it against rats, we shall doubtless not risk it in war. And even by neglect, we do not dare risk it in our otherwise often overlooked classes.

We have undertaken to exterminate yellow fever in tropical America more in self defense than out of altruistic interest in our Central and South American neighbors. And we have even joined with that horrid of bugaboes, the League of Nations, in the health part of its work. One dose of microbes makes the whole world kin.

WOMAN SOUGHT IN COURTHOUSE BLAST

SACRAMENTO, Oct. 12.—A woman was sought by police here today for questioning in connection with the mysterious dynamiting of the Sacramento county courthouse, early Sunday.

Investigation of the bombing is centered around attempts to trace a fake telephone call, placed by a woman giving a fictitious address, which drew police reserves from the downtown section a few moments prior to the blast.

It is believed the telephone call, asking for immediate police assistance, was placed by a woman confederate of the dynamiters in order to give the man opportunity to work without fear of interference.

Ralph Motroni, Italian real estate man, was to be questioned by police again today in an attempt to link the courthouse explosion with the several attempts to dynamite the Motroni home.

A belief that Italians of the city are engaged in a vendetta of some sort and are using dynamite in a systematic campaign of intimidation, was one of the theories held by police.

RAIN TOTAL HERE GETS SLIGHT BOOST

With 2.6 of an inch of moisture precipitated here in the last 48 hours, the rainfall for the season today stood at 1.48 inches, compared with .06 of an inch on this date last year.

According to the records of Hill and Son, 18 of an inch fell for the 24 hours ending at 7 a. m. Sunday, and .08 of an inch for the succeeding 24 hours.

The weather man in Los Angeles today predicted light showers for tonight and tomorrow, with moderate temperature tonight and

MADDEN HITS HUGE WASTE IN AIR FUNDS

Chairman of House Appropriations Committee in Attack on Army, Navy SQUANDER VAST SUMS

Congressman Tells Board Of Inquiry Cash Is Spent In Orgy of Experiments

(By United Press) WASHINGTON, D. C., Oct. 12.—A scathing denunciation of the air and navy departments for misadministration of money appropriated by congress for aircraft, amounting in some instances to "criminal waste," was made by Representative Martin Madden, of Illinois, chairman of the house appropriations committee, before the special aircraft board today.

"Millions of dollars appropriated by congress during the past few years for development have been squandered in a purposeless, meaningless, endless experimental orgy," said Madden.

Replying to the statements of war and navy department witnesses, who blamed congress for the backwardness of American aviation, Madden contemptuously exclaimed: "Blame shifters!"

Productive of Little "If credit is to be given to the testimony of many of the witnesses who have preceded me," said Madden, "this period of development and experimenting has been productive in very little, if any, advance toward a plan which might be accepted by congress."

"You have been told by men who should know that, with few exceptions, no real steps have been made. I cannot help but conclude that the technical development of this new art may not be safely left to the armed forces if we are to take our place among the countries of the world as a nation. Surely it is not too much to expect that the millions spent should have purchased more than is evidenced in tangible results."

Madden cited the purchase of 262 Thomas-Morse planes by the army air service, which are relegated to the second line within a year after purchase because of their lack of speed and vision.

Borders On Criminal Waste "I have heard something of a charge of criminal negligence," he said, "but that borders on criminal waste. Think of buying 262 pursuit planes that a pilot has difficulty in seeing out of. Congress certainly was not to blame in this instance."

Declaring that the "demands of some of these bureau people would bankrupt the government... who concern themselves little with the whole sum available to go around," Madden said the army and navy were worst of all.

"They always see a war on the horizon and want to be ready at the drop of the hat to go after or meet the other fellow," he said.

Try to Shift Blame "But," he continued, "I don't condemn them for that, but I do condemn them when congress has appropriated all that the country can afford for trying to blame congress when they find themselves in difficulty because they have not wisely applied the money placed at their disposal."

"What would these blame shifters have us do?" he asked, and then cited the navy's post-war demand for a 350,000-man fleet, the army's attempt to get a standing army of 500,000 men and a universal military training law, at a total cost of more than $2,500,000,000 a year.

"The navy wanted to keep in commission virtually everything that would float," he said. "They would not decommission them; congress had to force it. I cite these instances to show the lack of concern on our defense people as to the fellow who foots the bills and to illustrate the extravagance of their ideas."

"The failure of the army and navy to spend their money in the air service is not unique. Similar extravagance, get-nowhere programs are being carried on in tank development, artillery development, chemical warfare and ammunition development."

Big Appropriations Unwise Because of the experimental state of aircraft development and the lack of any definite plan, Madden said it would be unwise to grant big appropriations for air work.

200 Section Hands Go On Strike

YUMA, Ariz., Oct. 12.—Two hundred Southern Pacific section hands went on strike at Wellton, near here, today. The workers, engaged in constructing a new piece of track, walked out in protest to a change in formanship. A squad of deputy sheriffs left here for Wellton to preserve order, pending settlement of the differences.

CENSUS FIGURE ON SANTA ANA HELD TOO LOW

Federal census officials who today announced revised population figures for Santa Ana and other cities presumed to have less than 100,000 population should first revise their method of calculation, which gives Santa Ana 19,481 instead of the 30,400 or more it actually possesses. This was the sentiment at local sources of population statistics, which place Santa Ana's present population at anywhere from 30,000 to 32,000, and show the federal estimate to be more than 10,000 short.

The federal census bureau must "raise its sights" if it expects to get a line on California's growth in population since 1920, all agreed. Based On 10-year Growth The federal census estimate, based upon the rate of growth of Santa Ana between 1910 and 1920, has been thrown away off its mark by failure of the bureau to realize the city's remarkable growth since 1920, which was far more rapid than in the preceding decade, local authorities explain.

Santa Ana was not the only California city to suffer from the bureau's miscalculation, it is shown. Long Beach, for example, was credited with 91,182, whereas its actual population is estimated to be in the neighborhood of 150,000. The cities that have made the strongest growth during the last five years have been the census bureau's method of calculation, which assumes that any city's annual growth in population was the same since 1920 as its average annual growth between 1910 and 1920.

Statistics from the Santa Ana postoffice, from the Southern California Edison company and other sources, which form a barometer of growth, show that the federal estimate is much too low.

Census Report Amazes Its announcement was received with amazement by local officials. "It must be a typographical error, don't you think?" was the incredulous comment of A. L. Olinger, secretary of the Santa Ana Chamber of Commerce.

"Our population is certainly at least 30,000 and probably more, according to every means we have of gauging it. A count of people on the street would show more than the estimate given. Our city directory will show fully 30,000. The census bureau is all wrong," Olinger finished.

W. L. Deimling, district manager of the Southern California Edison company, added his evidence to that of the others. "The census bureau is away off," he remarked. "At a very conservative estimate, the city's population is 32,000, but to give the benefit of the doubt, we call it 31,000. The increase in our meters show it conclusively."

"The trouble is," added Deimling, "the census bureau is trying to estimate California's present growth by its past growth, which can't be done. Just for example, the demand for service on our system jumped from 70,000 horsepower to 250,000 horsepower during one year, 1923."

10,000 Postal Services "The census estimate is away short," said T. E. Stephenson, postmaster. "Estimates are made from time to time from postmasters showing the population served. The Santa Ana office city carriers are making approximately 7400 stops or services. At the office, 640 boxes are served, and we estimate that 720 get their mail at general delivery. About 1400 boxes are served by rural carriers. We are, therefore, making more than 10,000 services, or, rather, were six months ago when the last count was made. A new count is to be made at the semi-annual inspection of carrier routes now in progress, and up-to-date figures will soon be available. However, for this presentation, the

Homeseekers in Florida From Middle West Lose Lives in Sea Tragedy

10 BODIES RECOVERED Vice President of Development Company Operating Excursion Is Hero

(By United Press) MELBOURNE, Fla., Oct. 12.—Searching for the bodies of four additional victims of the ill-fated excursion yacht, Clara B., rescuers today braved the dangers of a heavy sea that swirled around the rocky mouth of Sebastian inlet, where the yacht capsized Sunday.

Ten bodies have been recovered and a check today showed the following named persons still missing and believed to have been drowned: Frank Driscoll, Los Angeles; J. T. Salmon, and two men named Husted and Albertson, all of Wichita, Kansas.

Party of Homeseekers In capsizing of the yacht, tragedy laid its hand on a group of middle western homeseekers who came to Florida to fulfill dreams of riches and comfort. The party, which started out yesterday on the yacht in Melbourne bay to see the lands offered them by a development company, was all but wiped out when seas swept over their boat.

Ten are known to have drowned. Four others are missing. Of the remaining eight making up the party, six were uninjured.

The visitors were largely from Kansas City and Wichita, Kas. Mrs. Locke D. Davidson, wife of the vice president of the company which conducted the homeseekers' excursion, is among the dead and her husband among the heroes of the disaster, which has shocked Florida.

List of Dead The dead included: HAROLD ROACHE, Melbourne. DONALD ROACHE, 12, Melbourne. HARRY COPPECK, Kansas City. MISS DREILING (or Brailing), Wichita, Kas. MR. BARTON AND WIFE, Wichita, Kas. D. V. RUCKLES, Wichita, Kas. MISS LARSON, Wichita, Kas. MRS. LOCKE D. DAVIDSON, Melbourne. A. L. WHITESTAFF, Kansas City, Mo. MR. SALMON, Wichita, Kas. Three unidentified victims.

HERETIC BISHOP DEPOSED FROM EPISCOPAL MINISTRY; ACCUSED IS NOT PRESENT

(By United Press) NEW ORLEANS, La., Oct. 12.—William Montgomery Brown, heretic bishop, was deposed from the ministry of the Protestant Episcopal church today. The sentence was read by Bishop Ethelbert Talbot in the presence of 150 persons and was as follows: "Therefore, I depose you, William Montgomery Brown, from the sacred ministry and do hereby declare that you are so deposed."

CORSAIR'S MOUND ACE WINS SECOND CONTEST OF SERIES

VIC ALDRIDGE Setting the hard hitting Senators down with eight well scattered hits, Vic Aldridge, Pittsburgh's premier moundsman, won his second game of the world series this afternoon.

PLAY BY PLAY

FIRST INNING PITTSBURGH—Moore up. Strike one, called. Strike two, called. Moore fouled to Peck beyond the left field foul line. Carey up. Foul, strike one. Carey singled to left in front of Goslin. Cuyler up. Ball one, inside. Goslin, one, swung. Foul, strike two. Cuyler singled on a pop fly in front of Joe Harris. Barnhart up. Ball one, low. Strike one, called. Ball two. Barnhart flied to Goslin, the runners holding their bases after the catch. Traynor up. Ball one low. Ball two, outside. Foul, strike one. Ball three, low. Traynor walked. The bases are filled. Wright up. Strike one, called. Foul, strike two. Wright out. S. Harris to Judge, no errors. No runs, two hits. The reason for some of the vacant seats in center field became apparent when the band marched out and filled them. On the play to Wright, Coveleskie was credited with an assist as he tipped the ball to S. Harris.

WASHINGTON—Rice up. Ball one, outside. Rice singled over Moore's head and was stopped from a double by a quick throw by Cuyler. S. Harris up. Ball one, outside. S. Harris sacrificed. McInnis to Moore, who covered first. Goslin up. Ball one, inside. Goslin doubled on the left field foul line, scoring Rice. It was a pop fly that dropped in front of Barnhart. Judge up. Strike one, called. Foul, strike two. Ball one, inside. Judge fanned. J. Harris up. Ball one, outside. Strike one, swung. Ball two, high. Ball three, high. J. Harris walked. Peck up. Strike one, called. Ball one, high. Strike two, called. Peck forced Goslin at third, Traynor unassisted. One run, two hits, no errors. Mrs. Coolidge, who was dressed in black with a hat that had a wide brim on the right side, kept score. Her husband sat back in his seat with his hands folded, silent.

SECOND INNING PITTSBURGH—McInnis up. Strike one, called. Ball one, outside. Strike two, swung. Foul, Peck. Innis flied to Goslin, who made a circus catch on the left field foul line. Smith up. Strike one, swung. Foul, strike two. Ball one, high. Smith singled over second. Aldridge up. Foul, strike one. Aldridge hit into a double play, Bluege to Traynor, Judge. No runs, one hit, no errors. Showers of spray were flying from Coveleskie's spitball and Ruel could hardly hold it. The fans leaped for the numerous flies like hungry trout.

WASHINGTON—Ruel up. Strike one, called. Ruel popped to Moore. Bluege up. Strike one, called. Strike two, called. Bluege fanned. Coveleskie up. Foul, strike one. Ball one, high. Strike two, swung. Ball two, high. Ball three, inside. Coveleskie walked. Rice up. Ball one, inside. Strike one, called. Rice out. McInnis unassisted. No runs, no hits, no errors. When Bluege came to bat to face the pitcher who "beamed" him in Pittsburgh, Earl Smith tried to get the third baseman's goat. Ossie didn't appear to try very hard. Smith was cautioned by the umpire for yelling at Coveleskie who was obviously disturbed.

THIRD INNING PITTSBURGH—Moore up. Strike one, called. Moore out. Bluege to Judge. Carey up. Ball one, low. Ball two, low. Ball three, inside. Carey walked. Cuyler up. Ball one, low. Strike one, swung. Strike two, swung. Ball one, outside. Foul, Ball two, inside. Foul, Ball three, low. Carey stole second on Cuyler's third ball. Carey was hurt sliding into second and all the players gathered around him. Just as he left the ground to dive for the base, he collided with S. Harris and had his wind knocked out. The club physician ran out and after a few minutes rest and rubbing of his shoulder and chest, Carey was able to resume. Cuyler walked. Barnhart up. Ball one, outside. Barnhart singled, over Peck's head, scoring Carey. Cuyler reached third. Traynor up. Ball one, low. Ball two, low. Barnhart stole second. Traynor's third

PITTSBURGH WINS FIFTH GAME FROM WASHINGTON TEAM BY SCORE OF 6 TO 3

Solons In Determined Fight to Seize Championship, But Are Completely Outclassed at Capital

PLAYERS TO TRAVEL TONIGHT

GRIFFITH STADIUM, Washington, Oct. 12.—The Pittsburgh Pirates hit hard today for the first time in the present series and won the fifth game 6 to 3. The sixth game will be played in Pittsburgh tomorrow.

It was a hard-fought, ding-dong battle, with the Washington Senators fighting to win and end the series. Stanley Coveleskie, the veteran Pole, tried to beat the Pirates, despite the handicap of a strained back, but they got to him in the seventh and he was taken out. The Pirates made 13 hits off Washington pitchers.

Vic Aldridge, who was on the mound for Pittsburgh, was batted hard and was often in trouble, but managed to last out for his second victory of the series. "Win" Ballou worked part of the seventh inning for Washington and Zachary pitched the eighth and part of the ninth. Marberry finishing the game.

J. Harris hit a long one into left field stands in the fourth inning and Ruel and Bluege, who was back in the Washington lineup at third base, both hit savagely, but Aldridge worked himself out of the hole.

There were fewer spectators than at any preceding game, less than 36,000 sitting through a dull gray afternoon to watch the Pirates unload their long deferred attack.

Official figures of fifth game: Attendance, 35,889. Receipts, $145,675. Commission's share, $21,851.25. Club's share, $125,823.75.

GREY MARKS DAY, UNIFORMS AND TEAM GRIFITH STADIUM, Washington, Oct. 12.—Grey skies, New Grey uniforms on the team. New grey uniforms on the team. New grey uniforms on the team. New grey uniforms on the team. New grey uniforms on the team.

A veteran Pole with greying hair, Stan Coveleskie, was selected by Manager Stanley Harris for the business of extinguishing the visitors. Ossie Bluege, the Senators' third baseman, who was injured in Pittsburgh during the second game, was in batting practice. The field was cleared except for the band and the batteries and everyone awaited the arrival of the Coolidge party. The usual semicircle of photographers formed around the presidential box.

President Reaches Stadium President Coolidge and his party arrived at Griffith stadium at 2 p. m. The band played the national anthem and everyone stood. The president stood at attention in the aisle while the flag was being raised in center field. Players of both teams gathered around the Coolidge party.

The umpires went to home plate for a last minute survey and conference as the army band marched off the field. The Senators lined up against the Pittsburgh Pirates in the fifth game of the world's series determined to win it, terminate the series and emerge with the championship for the second year running.

Senators Are Favorites The Senators were odds-on favorites to win the game and the series. With a 3 to 1 lead in the series, they had an advantage that was hard to overcome. Bill McKechnie, manager of the Pirates, said before the game started that he was going to pitch Vic Aldridge, a selection which crossed all the experts who thought Lee Meadows would work in the box.

The Pittsburgh players admitted that Meadows had a sore arm and might not be able to work again if the Pirates won today. Bucky Harris, young manager of the Washington club, said Bluege would not play today. Harris said he would start Coveleskie for six innings and if necessary would relieve him then with Zachary and Marberry to finish the game.

The ground keepers moved off the field and umpires gathered in front of the presidential box for the pitchout. Mr. Coolidge made a perfect toss and it was caught near the plate.

ball. Traynor fled to Rice, Cuyler scoring after the catch. It was a sacrifice fly. Wright up. Foul, strike one. Wright out. Peck to Judge. Two runs, one hit, no errors. Pittsburgh fans rattled cowbells. Carey was obviously badly shaken up and kept working his arm. President Coolidge got up and left his box. Mrs. Coolidge remaining to watch the game.

WASHINGTON—S. Harris up. Ball one, low. Strike one, swung. Harris out. Aldridge to McInnis on a bunt. Goslin up. Goslin out. Moore to McInnis on an easy chance. Judge up. Ball one, outside. Strike one, called. Ball two, inside. Foul, strike two. Foul, Ball three, high. Foul. Judge fled to Cuyler. No runs, no hits, no errors. Judge Landis, in his usual attitude with his chin on the rail, didn't move when foul tips flew near him.

FOURTH INNING
PITTSBURGH—McInnis up. Strike one, called. McInnis out. Peck to Judge on a nice play. Smith up. Foul, strike one. Ball one, high. Foul, strike two. Foul. Smith singled over second. Aldridge up. Foul, strike one. Ball one, outside. Ball two, outside. Foul, strike one. Aldridge lined to Goslin. Moore up. Ball one, high. Ball two, inside. Ball three, inside. Strike one, called. Moore singled to right. Smith going to third. Joe Harris made a fine stop on the drive. Carey up. Strike one, called. Carey out. Judge, unassisted. The fans were booing Smith when he came to bat and he smacked a foul back into the midst of his tormentors. He hit another which struck a woman on the head, knocking her hat off. She laughed and the crowd yelled to the umpire to give her the ball which had bounced into the field. The umpire tipped his cap and did so while the crowd laughed.

WASHINGTON—J. Harris up. Harris hit a home run into the left field bleachers, tying the score. It was a home run in any park. Peck up. Strike one, called. Strike two, called. Ball one, outside. Peck fanned. Ruel singled in front of Barnhart. Bluege up. Ball one, outside. Strike one, swung. Foul, strike two. Ball two, low. Bluege doubled to left center. Ruel stopping at third. Coveleskie up. Strike one, called. Ball one, outside. Strike two, called. Coveleskie fanned. Rice up. Strike one, called. Rice out. McInnis unassisted. One run, three hits, no errors. Mrs. Coolidge jumped up to her feet and cheered and applauded Joe Harris as he came in after making his home run. The ball landed in the first row of spectators just over the low fence. Tom Sheehan and Aldham warmed up.

FIFTH INNING
PITTSBURGH—Cuyler up. Ball one, low. Cuyler fled to Rice, who went far back for the catch. Barnhart up. Strike one, called. Barnhart popped to Peck. Traynor up. Strike one, called. Ball one, low. Foul, strike two. Ball two, outside. Traynor popped to S. Harris. No runs, no hits, no errors. The sun by this time had disappeared and it grew colder. Fans who had shed their overcoats stood up and put them on again. Mrs. Coolidge had a white silk necktie.

WASHINGTON—S. Harris up. Strike one, called. Ball one, high. Strike two, called. Ball two, outside. S. Harris out. Moore to McInnis. Goslin up. Ball one, high. Goslin fled to Cuyler. Judge up. Ball one, high. Ball two, outside. Judge popped to Wright. No runs, no hits, no errors. The Washington fans whistled and laughed as Earl Smith pranced up and down kidding Goslin, flapping imaginary goose wings and imitating the slugger's movements. Smith is the bright spot of the series with his clowning.

SIXTH INNING
PITTSBURGH—Wright up. Wright fled to Goslin near foul line. McInnis up. Strike one, called. McInnis beat out a hit to Peck on a close play. It was scored as an error. Smith up. Foul, strike one. Foul, strike two, Smith hit into a double play, Coveleskie to Peck to Judge. No runs, no hits, one error. The Washington fans set up an outburst of real enthusiasm when the Pirates were cut down and continued it as J. Harris came to bat.

WASHINGTON—J. Harris up. Ball one, high. Ball two, high. Strike one, called. Foul, strike two. J. Harris singled over Wright's head. Peck up. Ball one, outside. Foul, strike one. Peck sacrificed. McInnis to Moore. Ruel up. Strike one, called. Ball one, high. Ball two, high. Ball three, outside. Strike two, called. Ruel walked. Bluege up. Strike one, swung. Ball one, outside. Ball two, low. Strike one, called. Ball three, inside. Bluege fanned. J. Harris was out trying to steal third. Smith to Traynor. No runs, one hit, no errors. The fans set up a rhythmic clapping in an attempt to bother Vic Aldridge. McInnis kept giving him advice.

SEVENTH INNING
PITTSBURGH—Aldridge up. Foul, strike one. Aldridge out. Bluege to Judge, on an easy play. Moore up. Strike one, called. Ball one, high. Ball two, inside. Ball three, inside. Moore walked. Carey up. Foul, strike one. Foul, strike two. Carey singled past Peck. Moore stopping at second. Cuyler up. Strike one, swung. Cuyler singled to Bluege, scoring Moore. Carey stopped at third. It was a hard hit ball that Bluege couldn't handle. Barnhart up. Ball one, outside. Foul, strike one. Ball two, outside. Foul, strike two. Foul. Ball three, outside. Foul. Barnhart singled over second, scoring Carey. Cuyler stopped at third. Coveleskie was taken out of the box and Ballou relieved him. Traynor up. Foul, strike one. Strike two, called. Traynor out, on strikes. Wright up. Strike one, called. Strike two, called. Cuyler was caught off third base and retired the side. Ruel to Bluege. Two runs, three hits, no errors. Everyone, including Mrs. Coolidge, stood up for the "lucky seventh" and cheered Ballou.

WASHINGTON—Leibold, batting for Ballou, up. Foul. Strike one. Ball one, high. Leibold doubled down the right field foul line. Rice up. Ball one, outside. Rice singled to center, scoring Leibold. It was a beautiful hit right through the center of the infield. S. Harris up. Foul, strike one. Harris sacrificed. Smith to McInnis. Goslin up. Ball one, high. Goslin fled to Cuyler. Rice going to third after the catch. Judge up. Ball one, outside. Foul, strike one. Ball two, inside. Ball three, outside. Judge walked. J. Harris fled to Cuyler in short right field. One run, two hits, no errors.

figures of six months ago are ample evidence that this office is making more than 10,000 services. Allowing 3.5 person to each service, we have within the jurisdiction of this post-office not less than 35,000 persons, of which I believe 30,000 are within the city limits of Santa Ana."

GOVERNMENT GIVES POPULATION ESTIMATES
WASHINGTON, Oct. 12.—Revised population figures for cities and towns of more than 10,000 population as of July 1, were announced by the U. S. census bureau today. The estimates were based upon the assumption that the annual increase in the population of any city since 1920 is equal to the annual increase between 1910 and 1920, with an allowance for annexation and detachments of territory.

Estimates of cities having more than 100,000 population were made several weeks ago and the list made public today contains new figures only for cities having less than that number. Among these were:

Alameda, 31,876; Berkeley, 66,209; Eureka, 13,533; Fresno, 56,485; Long Beach, 91,182; Pasadena, 56,732; Pomona, 15,372; Richmond, 22,530; Riverside, 21,679; Sacramento, 72,280; San Bernardino, 22,823; San Jose, 45,551; Santa Ana, 19,481; Stockton, 47,287.

In some cases, no new estimate was made, the figure given being the same as in the 1920 census, while in others no estimate was made because of the belief that, despite all allowances, it would not be correct.

Duz washes out Stains

Try any one of these tests, yourself!

Splatter or spill grape juice, ink or iodine on a piece of cloth. Or take any garment stained with perspiration, or spotted with grease, blood, or peaches. If the fabric is silk, wool, or water-fast in color—just soak in warm Duz suds and gently squeeze the snowy suds through the stain. For cotton and linen things—boil a few minutes if you wish to. Then rinse in clear water.

The most obstinate stains have disappeared! And without the slightest harm to the daintiest fabric. All kinds of stains, except rust, are washed out by Duz in just this way.

Oxygen suds actually do the washing

Duz instantly dissolves into quantities of foamy suds—even in hard water. These snowy suds are bursting with millions of harmless bubbles of oxygen that whirl and swirl over every fibre of the fabric. The oxygen suds actually wash out every trace of grime, yellowness and stain.

Duz sterilizes without boiling. Cleanses without wash-board scrubbing. And washes out your yellowed pieces the whitest white you ever saw—without any bleaching—just as if they had been whitened by sunshine and breeze.

Duz keeps your hands soft and white.

A WORD OF COMFORT

Fairy tales have their charm, but no creation of the imagination is as alluring and satisfying as is a chronicle of great historical events. There is a gripping interest in the stories of Agamemnon and Achilles, the Vikings and Columbus, Horatius at the bridge, and the storming of the Bastille.
Your fellow men gain greater inspiration and strength from seeing you rise triumphantly over circumstances than they could ever find in stories of legendary heroes who refused to admit when you do your duty well and your example stimulates and enheart-ens others.

PRIZES HYBRID TREE

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind.—Charles
C. Dean, state forester, has decided to the state a bit of land in Wells county on which stands what is believed to be the only hybrid between the chinquapin oak and the white oak tree in the middle west. Once chinquapin trees were common. Often they were called pigeon oaks because wild pigeons seemed to prefer them to other trees as roosts.

The Well-Dressed Man
By BEAUNASH
Correct Clothes To Meet The Obligation Of Every Occasion

WINGS OF THE EVENING
Writes a valued correspondent: "I like to dress correctly and I understand that the wing collar is the proper shape to wear with my Tuxedo suit. However, I find that neither the collar with very large wings nor that with very small wings is becoming to my face.
Can I, therefore, wear a turn-down or double-fold collar, as I see many others wear it with evening dress?" What sets the fashion is the practice of the best-dressed men in the capitals of America and Europe. There must be some standard to guide us, and it is natural that present-day standards in dress should be fixed by those who spend more money, time and attention on clothes than the average man can afford to give them. This does not signify that they possess greater taste, but simply that they are so circumstanced, they can make a study out of what, to you or me, is merely as incident.
It is the custom among the best-dressed men the world wide to wear the wing collar with the Tuxedo suit, not the turn-down shape.
The reason for this is twofold. First, the wing bespeaks formality, as an evening collar should. Secondly, the wing is a cooler collar, because it has only one thickness, and it is really a more comfortable collar, because it is open in front for chin room.
The trouble with many men who, like our correspondent, do not fancy the wing collar is that they do not choose the shape which is flattering to them. It is usually advisable to avoid both the small-tab and the large-tab wing, selecting the one with medium-sized points.
You can only determine what sort of collar looks best on you by trying on different shapes and disregarding style completely to obtain becomingness to the individual face and neck.
Sketched here are three types of wing collars, narrow, medium and broad of tab. Of course, there are variations of size in between. While the latest fashion favors the large wing, it should only be adopted if it complements you. Then, too, the contour of one's face and whether a man be single-chinned or whether his chin leads a double life must be taken into account. After all this is printed and prated, you will never go amiss if you make up your mind that good sense underlies good style.

1 KILLED AND 5 INJURED IN CANYON CRASH

One man was killed, one is under arrest, held on suspicion of manslaughter, and 11 persons were injured in automobile accidents in Orange county over the week-end, according to a check made today by police officers.

Ignacio Rodriguez, Los Angeles, riding in an automobile occupied by five other persons, and driven by his brother, Cecario Rodriguez, was instantly killed in the Brea canyon Sunday afternoon. Fracture of the skull was said to be the cause of death.

Cecario Rodriguez was placed under arrest by Brea officers and is being held in the Fullerton jail on suspicion of manslaughter, after officers are said to have found a third of a quart of whiskey in the machine.

Five Are Injured
All five of the other occupants of the machine were injured. Margarita Cabrera, Pomona, is in the Fullerton General hospital, where it is said she is suffering from several scalp wounds. Her condition is not serious. Jose Tabala, Cecario Rodriguez and Micaelo Cardillo suffered minor cuts and bruises, and Felipe Rico suffered a wrenched back. All are from Los Angeles, and with the exception of Margarita Cabrera, all were able to return to their homes after medical attention was given them in Brea.

According to information obtained in Brea, the car in which the six were riding turned over when it failed to negotiate a sharp curve at a high rate of speed. Several of the occupants were pinned beneath the machine, which was badly damaged.

Inquest into the death of Ignacio
Rodriguez will be held today in Fullerton in the Seal funeral parlors. Coroner Charles D. Brown will be in charge.

Three Orange youths, Lester Gish, George Hanson and Ula Gish, suffered injuries Saturday night, when the machine in which they were riding skidded and overturned on Main street, Orange. All were badly cut and bruised and all three arrested on drunk charges.

Three Mexicans, whose names were not learned by officers, were injured at 10 o'clock last night, when the machine in which they were riding overturned at the intersection of Edinger road and Bristol street. None was seriously hurt.

Will be included on the program.
Roland E. Dye is president of the club.

Arrivals at St. Ann's Inn include Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Morton, Los Angeles; Mrs. Bland, Los Angeles;
Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Welling, Warwick, N. Y.; Lew Rosenblum, New York City; Mr. and Mrs. W. H.
Moore, San Diego; Nelson W. H.
Crane, Eastport, Me.; Charles Piers, Hollywood; Roderick Macdonald, Hollywood; O. H. Schmitz, Donald, Hollywood; Mrs. J. S. Von Debski, Los Angeles; Mrs. J. R. Dennis, San Diego.

District No. 16, California State Nurses association, will meet at the Church of the Messiah, Sixth and Bush streets, Friday, October 16, at 2:30 p. m. A meeting of the board of directors of the organization will be held at 2 o'clock. Miss Erma Sprand, supervisor of corrective posture, of the Los Angeles schools, will be the principal speaker of the afternoon. All nurses are invited.

R. P. Mitchell, county superintendent of schools and J. A. Cranston, city superintendent of schools, left this morning for Pasadena, where they will attend the annual state convention of county, city and district superintendents.

Mrs. Mildred Ricciardi, director of Americanization work in the Santa Ana city schools, and Miss Helen Walker, assistant director, will attend tomorrow's session of the school superintendents' convention in Pasadena.

A marriage license was issued in Riverside Saturday to Wayne P.
Harmon, 22, and Bernice Hansen,
18, both of Santa Ana.

L. F. Harvey, superintendent of mail of the Santa Ana post office, said today that no small number of patrons of the Santa Ana office seem to be unaware of the fact that postage on postcards sent to a number of foreign countries has been raised to three cents. The government is to print a new issue of three-cent foreign postal cards. At this time three cents is necessary to carry any postal card to any country in Europe excepting Spain.
Two cents is sufficient to carry a postal card to Spain or its colonies or to any country in North America or South America.

The members of the Men's Brotherhood of the First Presbyterian church are looking forward with keen anticipation to their meeting in the church dining room tomorrow evening at 6:30 o'clock, when they will be addressed by Dr. W. H. L.
Benton, rector of the Church of the Messiah, on "Co-operation." The meeting will be preceded by a dinner. Friends of members are also invited to enjoy the evening.

Tells Women to Avoid "Physics"

DR. CALDWELL ATAGERS

To Dr. W. B. Caldwell, of Monticello, Ill., a practicing physician for 47 years, it seemed cruel that so many constipated women and girls had to be kept "stirred up" and half sick by taking cathartic pills, salts, calomel and nasty oils.

While he knew that constipation was the cause of nearly all headaches, biliousness, sallow skin, indigestion and stomach misery, he did not believe that a sickening "purge" or "physic" every little while was necessary.

In Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin he discovered a laxative which regulates the bowels. A single dose will establish natural, healthy bowel movement for weeks at a time, even for those chronically constipated. Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin not only causes a gentle, easy bowel movement but, best of all, it is often months before another dose is necessary. Besides, it is absolutely harmless, and so pleasant that even a cross, feverish, sick child gladly takes it.

Buy a large 60-cent bottle at Dr. Caldwell's SYRUP PEPSIN any store that sells medicine and just see for yourself.

TOLEDO WOMAN, 87, GOES FOR AIRPLANE RIDE

Mrs. Jane M. Pair, mother of W. H. Matthews and grandmother of Earl Matthews, of the Orange County Legion works, recently celebrated her eighty-seventh birthday anniversary in Toledo, O., by a ride in an airplane, according to word brought here Saturday by L. M. Pair, who has come to this city to establish a permanent home.

Mr. Pair is a half-brother of W. H. Matthews and is accompanied by his wife, daughter and two sons. The newcomer for many years was general manager of the Toledo-Maumee Valley Interurban Railway company, in Toledo, and recently resigned his position in order that he might move to Santa Ana.

Commenting on his mother's trip into the air on her birthday, Pair said that the pilot ascended 2000 feet and gave his passenger a real ride. She enjoyed every moment of the air trip and declared the thrill to be the greatest she had ever had.

Incidentally, it may be said that with the plane ride the elderly woman completed the experience of enjoying every mode of transportation developed since her advent into the world in 1838. Stagecoach, horseback, carriage, bicycle, boat, auto and train transportation she had enjoyed prior to her air experience.

Mrs. Pair is known to a number of Santa Ana residents, she having visited with her relatives here.

HUNTING PARTY IS BACK FROM NORTH

A Santa Ana party, composed of Sheriff Sam Jernigan, County Assessor James Sleeper, Lamonte McFadden, Frank Freeman, George Mills and Spencer Collins, returned to Santa Ana last night after a 10-day hunting and fishing trip to Yreka, Calif.

Frank Freeman bagged one deer during the stay. In spite of the fact that Freeman was the only member of the party that returned with a trophy, Jernigan said today that the trip was one of the best he had ever had and that other members of the party felt the same way.

Some of the time was spent in fishing in the Klamath river.

Mob Wrecks Four Alleged Bootleg Joints In Weed

WEED, Calif., Oct. 12.—An unmasked and businesslike mob of 40 citizens wrecked four alleged bootlegging establishments here late Saturday night, doing damage of several thousand dollars. The mob action followed by three hours a legal raid by federal officers, in which nine patrons were arrested. The vigilantes chopped counters to pieces, smashed pictures, destroyed furniture and laid waste merchandise stocks.

3 Committees Appointed By Chamber Head

Three committees were appointed this morning by President O. A. Haley, of the Santa Ana Chamber of Commerce, to investigate, report upon and make recommendations on certain questions brought before the board of directors. Secretary A. L. Oliger announced today.

H. A. Gardner will act as chairman of a committee appointed to investigate the advisability of increasing the membership dues of the chamber, and rearranging the finances of the organization. Other members of the committee are Bruce Switzer and Alex Brownridge.

W. C. Jerome is the chairman of a special committee appointed to co-operate with the state legislature in the matter of allowing municipalities of the Santa Ana class to increase the general tax rate from $1.00 to $1.25. Such authority, it was pointed out, would enable the city officials to raise sufficient money for advertising purposes, for maintenance of parks, and for financing a municipal band. Other members of this committee are S. M. Davis, J. N. Anderson, J. A. Cranston and Horace Head. Named to assist the committee are Harry L. Hanson, J. W. Tubbs and J. K. Herman.

T. R. Ham is the chairman of a special committee appointed to assist the Orange County Fair association in devising ways and means for the proper and adequate financing of the fair. Other members are W. A. Paxton, E. E. Vincent, C. W. Rowland and M. D. Clark.

ARREST THREE ON WHISKEY CHARGES

Two men are charged with being drunk and another is being held on a charge of driving a machine while intoxicated, following their arrest in Orange Saturday night, after their car had skidded and turned over on Little Main street, according to a report made at the county jail.

Lester Gish, 25, and Gus Hanson, 33, are charged with being intoxicated and Ula Gish, a brother of Lester, is charged with driving while intoxicated. They will be taken to Orange today for a hearing.

All three men were hurt in the accident. Hanson was severely injured about the head, suffering from lacerations and bruises. Ula Gish suffered lacerations about the head and Lester Gish suffered a fractured arm. All three spent the week-end in the Orange county jail.

Women Urged to Join Gift Class

The first meeting of the Christmas gifts class will be held at 7 o'clock tonight in the Y.W.C.A. rooms, at Fifth and Sycamore streets. It will be in the form of a demonstration. Miss Sweet will have models to show of all the pretty things one can make and will explain the sort of materials needed and the amount of each so that during the coming week the class members can look around the stores and in their scrap-bags and be prepared to begin working at the next meeting, which will be held Monday night of next week. This meeting is an extra one and does not count as one of the regular classes for which a charge is made. Everyone interested in making any of the things shown in the shops for the coming Christmas season are urged to attend and hear how simply and easily they can be made.

LIONS PROGRAM WELL RECEIVED BY RADIO FANS

Attesting the wide range of reception of the radio program broadcast Saturday night from the Los Angeles Times station, telegrams of congratulation were received from a number of eastern and southern states, according to Harold E. Wahlberg, president of the Santa Ana Lions club, who arranged the program sponsored by his organization. About 60 members of the Lions club, and a number of guests, made the trip from Santa Ana in a motor caravan.

"It's Good To Be a Lion" was the subject of a five-minute talk by President Wahlberg. Jack Riley, district governor of the Lions Clubs International, California, Nevada and Hawaii, also spoke for five minutes on the aims of the organization.

The Santa Ana municipal band, D. C. Calfoni, director, played eight numbers. Georgia Bell Walton, violinist, gave two selections, "Perpetuum Mobile" (Bohm) and "The Old Refrain" (Kreisl). Mrs. Horace B. Van Dien, soprano, sang "Obstination" (Fonpenailles) and "La Partida" (Alvarez). Lion Maurice Phillips, baritone, sang "Four Jolly Sailors" and, with Lion Alan Revill, tenor, sang "On the Field of Glory". Lion Revill acted as accompanist for the artists on the program.

Wahlberg said that two important objects for the organization of Lions clubs are:

"To promote the theory and practice of the principles of good government and good citizenship. To take an active interest in the civic, commercial, social and moral welfare of the community."

"In fact," Wahlberg continued, "we Lions inculcate the same spirit of comradeship and promotion of community building and betterment that motivates the sponsoring of this wonderful broadcasting station. It aims to bring sunshine into the lives of others, to raise the standard of citizenship and to make our environment a better place in which to live."

Promote Many Projects

"The Santa Ana Lions club, like other Lions Clubs of the county, is glad of its opportunity to lend a helping hand in the community. As an international organization, we are promoting boys' work through the Boy Scouts and the Y.M.C.A. and other similar organizations. Some are promoting the good roads movement; some are raising funds for various charities, day nurseries, hospitals; some are boosting for civic improvements and bond issues, for better schools, parks, playgrounds. Practically all are co-operating with the chambers of commerce in advertising and boosting the advantages of their community. Some are providing summer camps and outings for poor children, entertaining orphans, newsboys and unfortunates at holiday times.

"Activities such as these are rapidly placing Lions clubs in the foreground of their communities. Membership in such clubs is becoming a privilege eagerly sought. The attitude of a prospective member used to be, what can the club do for me, but this attitude has been completely changed of recent years and the question now asked of a prospective member is what can you do for the club. The field of activity is practically without limit."

BEWARE THE COUGH OR COLD THAT HANGS ON

Persistent coughs and colds lead to serious trouble. You can stop them now with Creomulsion, an emulsified creosote that is pleasant to take. Creomulsion is a new medical discovery with two-fold action; it soothes and heals the inflamed membranes and inhibits germ growth.

Of all known drugs, creosote is recognized by high medical authorities as one of the greatest healing agencies for persistent coughs and colds and other forms of throat troubles. Creomulsion contains, in addition to creosote, other healing elements which soothe and heal the inflamed membranes and stop the irritation and inflammation, while the creosote goes on to the stomach, is absorbed into the blood, attacks the seat of the trouble and checks the growth of the germs.

Creomulsion is guaranteed satisfactory in the treatment of persistent coughs and colds, bronchial asthma, bronchitis and other forms of respiratory diseases, and is especially for building up the system after colds or flu. Money refunded if any cough or cold is not relieved after taking according to directions. Ask your druggist. Creomulsion Company, Atlanta, Ga.—(Adv.)

Interesting Resume of Conference Held in Edinburgh

"World Peace," the theme of the International Educational conference held at Edinburgh last summer, was discussed in detail by Miss Jennie Lasby, a delegate to the conference, for the interest and benefit of the Orange county branch of the American Association of University Women, meeting at Ebell club late last week.

A short business session which preceded the program was conducted by the president, Mrs. Edith Thatcher and after the elucidating talk by Miss Lasby had brought affairs of the international meeting very close to her hearers, a social interval was held during which Mrs. William S. Kellogg and Mrs. Robert Horn, as hospitality committee, served punch and wafers.

Members were present from all parts of Orange county, the formation of the county branch last spring, attracting the interest of college women generally. Anyone with two years' work at a credited college or university, is eligible for membership and the list is constantly growing. The association was launched by the Santa Ana Pan-Hellenic society.

In opening her talk, Miss Lasby quoted the president of the International Conference, Dr. Thomas, as saying in his introductory address, that if the men lost in the World War could be brought back and would march past that meeting place ten abreast and ten feet between the ranks, the column would take forty-six days and nights to march. He then went on to point out the great loss to civilization from such wholesale carnage.

After the opening session, the conference met in various sections—each one discussing special plans to further understanding and good will among all nations.

Miss Lasby attended the sections on literary and secondary education. The first section discussed ways and means to wipe out illiteracy in all countries. It was suggested that a literacy test be given along with the census to get an accurate idea of conditions, also that the nations assist one another in a definite campaign to do away with illiteracy among the next generation throughout the civilized world.

In the secondary education section changes in the teaching of history were strongly urged. It was pointed out that our present text books over emphasize wars and the causes of wars rather than the disastrous after effects. Arrangements were made for the writing of an international text-book of biography to include representative figures from each country. It is interesting to note that foreign members of the committee suggested the following Americans: Abraham Lincoln, Benjamin Franklin, Woodrow Wilson.

Other discussions included the teaching of economics from a world view point, the teaching of different types of government in civics instead of emphasizing our own entirely. The teaching of appreciation of art and music as a common bond between peoples and the cultivation of an international sense of humor.

ANNOUNCEMENTS

The Past Matrons' society of Hermosa chapter O. E. S. will hold its October luncheon at the Masonic temple on Thursday at 1 o'clock. The hostesses will be Mrs. Jennie A. Peek, Mrs. E. G. Hurlburt and Mrs. F. D. Drake. Those unable to attend are requested to call Mrs. Drake at 492-M.

The Third Household Economics section of Ebell society will have a pot-luck luncheon on Friday at 12:30 o'clock at the home of Mrs. W. W. Crozier, 311 Island avenue, Balboa. Every one is requested to bring her own table service, sandwiches and one prepared dish.

The W. C. T. U. will meet tomorrow afternoon at 2:30 o'clock in the Spurgeon Memorial church. The topic for the day, "Temperance and Missions" will be given by Mrs. A. M. McDermott.

The Second Household Economics section of Ebell society will hold the first meeting of the year on Wednesday, October 14. The meeting will be a 1 o'clock luncheon at Santa Ana Country club. The hostesses will be Mrs. Bruce Monroe, Mrs. A. G. Flagg and Mrs. Ralph Smedley. All of those who cannot attend are asked to notify one of the hostesses not later than this evening.

The Pan-Hellenic society will meet Thursday evening at 8 o'clock at the home of Mrs. Harry Westover, 1527 East Fourth street. Mrs. Westover and Mrs. William M. Cory are planning the entertainment. The meeting is to be a Halloween party and it is requested that everyone come dressed in Halloween costume. Eligible college girls who wish to join the society should call to call Mrs. Westover at 531-W.

Santa Ana has long been accorded the honor of being California's Gretna Green, but where in Southern California, is the true "marrying parson?"

Does Riverside claim the distinction of having him? It would seem that the Rev. Ira W. Barnett, D. D., pastor of Calvary Presbyterian church of that city, might be in the lead in claiming the honor, for according to letters which the Reverend Doctor is sending out, (almost broadcasting, one might say) he has joined in the bonds of matrimony, nearly 600 couples during his ministry in Southern California. And now Dr. Barnett comes forward with a happy idea of a reunion of those 1200 souls in one great church service to be held in Calvary Presbyterian church, Sunday morning, October 18, at 10:40 o'clock.

In outlining his plan for the morning service, Dr. Barnett declared that his purpose is not to gather the 600 couples together merely for the purpose of seeing them again, but to have the opportunity of stressing in the service, the sanctity of the marriage relation and the sanctity of the home. Nor is this to be stressed just for the benefit of the couples he has united, but for any other couples who may be present.

Special musical features will be no small part of the program and classical wedding numbers will form an organ recital while solo, duet and quartet vocal numbers will be chosen for their appropriateness.

Dr. Barnett has endeavored to reach each of the couples he has united, by letter, but in the case of a few who may have been overlooked, has made the invitation a general one to all who besought his services, hoping that there will come an enthusiastic response.

Undoubtedly there will be many Santa Anans who will accept the invitation, for innumerable local brides and grooms have motored across to the neighboring city for their nuptial rites, the famous Glenwood Mission Inn being a favorite honeymoon resort.

It would be of much local interest to know just who of this city, turned to the Riverside minister when Dan Cupid got in his good work. Will they telephone The Register at 90?

Benefit Card Party At Ebell Club

When members of Ebell's Day Nursery committee met last week to consider plans for the welfare of the nursery, it was recalled that many requests had been made for the repetition of a pleasant card party which the committee sponsored last year as a benefit for the nursery—one of Ebell's most cherished projects.

When it was remembered that not only had one of the largest groups of members and many friends met to share in what was declared to be one of the pleasantest of many Ebell parties, but that the direct result of the affair was a great, sunny play-room for the small folk at the nursery—a play-room with half a dozen big Pullman windows which make it a delightful place on wintry days, it was unanimously decided to repeat the party as an event of the month at the clubhouse and to make it an annual affair henceforth.

So Thursday, October 29 was selected as the date and the idea was enlarged upon until now the plan includes not only the afternoon of cards and needlework, in banquet room and lounge, but a morning interval during which home-cooked foods, candy and fancywork will be on sale at cleverly improvised booths in the big assembly room. At 2 o'clock the afternoon affair will open with a flourish when woman-folk will gather for the social features, some just to chat and sew, others to gather around tables reserved for bridge or for 500, as fancy dictates. Refreshments will follow the card playing and if there are still food-stuffs left from the morning bazaar, they will be offered for sale.

Committees for the various features have been appointed as follows: Food and candy, Mrs. Harry Spencer, Mrs. E. A. Noe; fancywork, Mrs. T. D. Knights, Mrs. E. B. Sprague; cards, Mrs. Walter Vandermast, Mrs. J. H. Metzgar, Mrs. W. E. Winslow; cashier, Mrs. J. M. Torrey.

List of Books Given Especially For Home Reading

Through the courtesy of Mrs. Aaron Block of Costa Mesa, chairman of Americanization for Orange County Federation of Women's clubs a list of books suitable for supplementary reading among club-women and their families is today being offered. The list as compiled at the request of the southern district chairman of American citizenship, Mrs. George G. Cole, by A. G. Paul, principal of Riverside high school and junior college.

Many of the books are particularly interesting for young people. It is hoped that this list will be placed on the bulletin board of every club in the county for the club-woman who is interested in American history and American citizenship, but cannot attend a study class.

Gay Hallowe'en Motif Brightens Party in Seba Home

One of the pretty parties of last week was that given by Mrs. George Seba, to the members of the A. D. club, at her lovely home in Orange. Large bowls of gaily colored dahlias and asters were the floral decorations, while black cats and witches carried out the Hallowe'en effect.

The first part of the evening was devoted to needlework and chat, the latter part to interesting games and radio music. Mrs. Verna Campbell and Mrs. Sarah Rorman carried off prizes for the games.

Late in the evening Mrs. Seba served a very delectable supper, consisting of chicken patties, salad, coffee, cake and ice cream served as little orange colored pumpkins. Nut baskets and Hallowe'en whistles were favors on each tray.

Those enjoying the evening, besides the hostess, Mrs. Olive Seba and little daughter Peggy, were Mesdames Bess Mathis, Elsie Harris, Eloise Roy, Nina Davis, Hazel Lyman, Verna Campbell, Sarah Rorman, Miss Amy Larson and Miss Gladys Young.

Modern Poetry

Meeting last Friday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Robert Northcross, members of the Ebell Modern Poetry section entered with zest into the study of post-Victorian poets, centering their interest for the afternoon in Algernon Charles Swinburne.

Mrs. Northcross opened the program with a outline of the proposed year's work, declaring the study of post-Victorian poets would aid section members to understand the reaction from their so-called "revelance" and their placing of form above ideal which resulted in the "arty realism" of the modernists.

Following a brief outline, Mrs. E. M. Blake presented a careful study of Swinburne the man, and his work, sketching in the latter by occasionally reading excerpts from noted poems, especially "Atlanta in Caydon." Rounding out the hour were the choruses read at intervals by Mrs. Jack Cloyes in her sympathetic manner.

An impromptu reading from "Aus Veneti" by Mrs. Northcross and a vivid description of the Old Chelsea district in London, haunt of so many celebrities, by Miss Jennie Lasby, completed an extremely interesting afternoon.

At the next meeting of the section, Mrs. Edward M. Nealley and Mrs. Red Aylward will present the lives and works of the Rossettis, Dante Gabriel and his sister, Christina Georgina. Marie Bishop will sing a group of the graceful lyrics in illustration of their work.

Pythian Sisters Head Becomes Bride of Angelenan

Bringing a happy culmination to a romance which began back in childhood days in Spokane, Wash., was the wedding on Friday, October 9, of Miss Ruth Kellogg, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. M. R. Kellogg, 423 Roe Drive, and Robert S. Williamson of Los Angeles, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Williamson of Spokane. The rites were read by the Rev. William Everett Roberts, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, in the presence of only the immediate relatives. Miss Kellogg, wearing a smart white flannel sports costume, was unattended.

The ceremony was followed by a delightful wedding supper ere the new Mr. and Mrs. Williamson left for a short honeymoon. Upon their return they will be at home to their friends in Los Angeles where Mr. Williamson is a contractor and builder.

His bride has occupied the office of most excellent chief of the Pythian Sisters of Santa Ana and among the many pleasant pre-nuptial courtesies extended her was a shower arranged by her lodge sisters.

Music Conservatory In Formal Opening

With all repairs and refurbishing completed at the Santa Ana Conservatory of Music, 606 North Main street, the faculty has selected the date of Wednesday, October 14 for the formal opening of the handsome new home of the conservatory.

Invitations were issued today for the program which will be presented by members of the teaching staff headed by the founder and head, D. C. Cianfoni. The evening promises to be one of the most delightful musical events of the year and will undoubtedly attract a large and appreciative crowd. It will offer a wide variety of features since practically all musical instruments are taught as well as singing, expression and dramatic art. The affair will begin at 8 o'clock and will allow guests an opportunity to see the attractive quarters of the conservatory.

PASADENA FIRE CHIEF TO TALK IN SANTA ANA

E. F. Coop, chief of the Pasadena fire department, will be the speaker at the Rotary club meeting tomorrow at St. Ann's Inn. It was announced here today by Mac O. Robbins, who will be program chairman. Co-operating with Robbins in development of the program were L. G. Swales, Guy Gilbert and the Rev. W. E. Roberts, pastor of the First Presbyterian church.

Coop will be accompanied by the department band of 20 pieces, and the organization will give a street concert during its brief sojourn in the city.

Coop is head of the department that won, in 1923, the Ince trophy offered for the department in the United States showing the most progress in fire prevention during the year. The Fresno department won the trophy in 1924 and 1925 and if it repeats in 1926 will become permanent possessor of the cup.

In presenting the program tomorrow the committee will feature fire prevention as an incident of fire prevention week. The chief will discuss fire prevention work and point out the many ways in which losses from conflagrations may be reduced.

TEA MAGNATE DIES

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 12.—Max J. Brandenstein, 65, founder and head of the tea and coffee business bearing his name, is dead here. Brandenstein founded the business in 1890, and it grew to be one of the largest importing and exporting concerns on the Pacific coast.

Verdict Against Parson Returned In Slander Case

YUMA, Ariz., Oct. 12.—Judgment against the Rev. Glenn Edwards, Redlands, Calif., for $5000 was awarded in superior court Saturday to Mrs. E. A. Barnett in a slander action brought while Edwards was pastor of the Christian church here.

Action against Edwards was the result of an alleged fraudulent land transaction, in which the pastor was said to have borrowed money from Mrs. Barnett while preaching in Phoenix.

The minister denied borrowing the money. A suit to recover the sum is still pending.

CALIFORNIA ELKS ELECT OFFICERS

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 12.—The California Elks association, in final session here Saturday, elected officers as follows:

James J. Lorman, past exalted ruler, San Francisco lodge, state president.

James T. Foy, Los Angeles, re-elected secretary.

C. W. Haub, Sacramento, treasurer.

Vice presidents, A. G. Brattweiler, Susanville; James A. Brosnahan, Vallejo; Ray W. Frisbie, Monterey; Harley Walker, sr., Ventura; A. R. Schultz, Redlands.

Trustees, G. L. Whipple, Stockton; J. B. Blackshaw, Pittsburg; F. J. Held Jr., Tulare; D. L. Ault, Calexico; C. T. Renaker, Monrovia.

Santa Monica was chosen for next year's convention.

The convention adopted a resolution to sponsor a tuberculosis hospital, the location to be selected.

Hear ye! Santa Ana is a live town, move on!

Police have finally awakened to the fact that motorists are stopping in the center of the streets to carry on conversations, to mail letters, to talk about this and that, and at last an effort is being made to break it up.

A half dozen have been sent into police court during the past week and given little reminders that the curbs are the places to stop their automobiles.

A couple of hundred more arrests in as short a time as possible would be the best thing the police could do in the way of aiding traffic regulation.

Heretofore, if John in his Ford, met Henry in his Lizzie, at Fourth and Sycamore streets, and John had not seen Henry since the rain, right then and there, John stopped his Ford and Henry stopped his Lizzie, and the rain prediction for the year was made.

And if President Coolidge happened to be in a car right behind either one of the two, then President Coolidge would just have to wait until it was decided how many inches of rain were going to fall at Artesia this season.

If police continue their good work of the past few days then there is only one other thing that is likely to block traffic at the main intersections, and that is the tourists who have to stop and ask which is the right road to San Diego.

Five luncheon clubs meet here every week, two chambers of commerce, a city council, Women's clubs innumerable, all for the welfare of Santa Ana, but none ever seems to think that a sign showing the way to visitors would be of benefit.

But even if one was erected, lack of light at night on the busiest corner would probably make it useless.

CAN YOU IMAGINE?

Eddie Focus in anything but knickers?

A Santa Ana man was fined $100 in Long Beach the other day, "upholding the validity of the city ordinance prohibiting the operation of slot machines."

The fine was remitted, because the case was more of a test, but it has brought out the fact that Long Beach is not blinded by the mere fact that a package of mints awaits the player who drops his nickles in the slot, hoping to get valuable chips for his money.

CHILD WELFARE PROBLEMS ARE DISCUSSED AT P.-T. A. SESSION

State President of Movement Delivers Blow at Questionable Literature

400 MEMBERS OF DISTRICT PRESENT

Legislator Takes Issue With Barring of Married Teachers from Schools

By ARVID E. GILMOUNT.

New ideas of home life, new conceptions of parental duties and responsibilities, new visions of intelligent co-operation between parents and teachers, new messages of inspiration to instill greater efforts in child welfare work, and new calls for service were brought to their respective homes by the 400 P.-T. A. workers who Saturday attended the general fall meeting of the fourth (Orange county) district, California Congress of Parents and Teachers, held in the Ebell clubhouse, Fullerton.

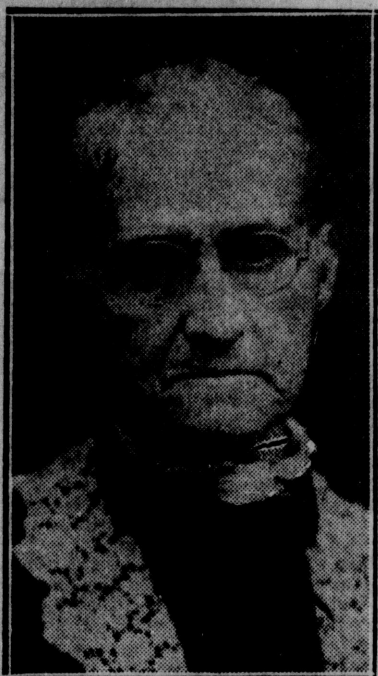

In addition to the district officers, headed by Mrs. J. Edmund Snow, of Santa Ana, president of the organization, the meeting was attended by the chairman of the different departments as well as by the presidents of the 49 local associations in the county. The Santa Ana federation, headed by Mrs. Fay R. Spangler, was exceptionally well represented.

Outstanding features of the meet were the masterly address delivered by Mrs. Hugh Bradford, state president of the organization, dealing with the P.-T. A. movement and its accomplishments; a talk by Assemblyman Samuel C. Hartman, of Fullerton, and a paper presented by Leroy A. Warren, county probation officer, bearing on the juvenile work of his office.

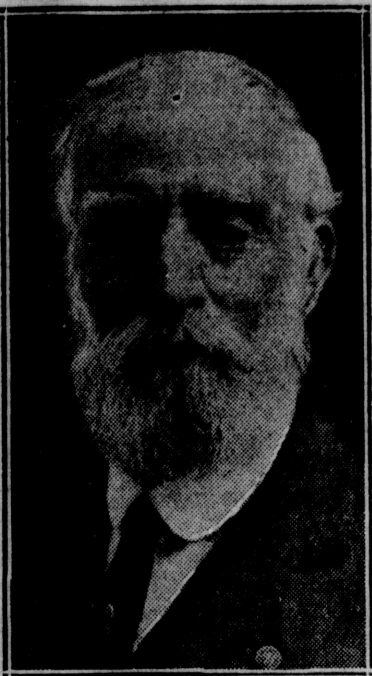

Suppression of obscene and questionable literature; recommendations that a permanent tubercular prevention home be established in Trabuco canyon, and that the local P.-T. A. association take up a systematic study of child welfare, as outlined in approved text books are matters touched upon in resolutions.

MONEY AWAITS BURGER HEIRS SOUGHT IN S. A.

William Watson Burger, a resident of this city from 1897 to 1912, left an estate of several thousand dollars, according to word received here today from W. C. Cox, probate genealogist, Chicago. Cox is seeking the names and addresses of heirs or next of kin, and has requested the assistance of the Register in locating them.

The genealogist does not disclose the place at which Burger died, but intimates he has been dead for some time. "Routine methods of locating the heirs have been exhausted and unless they are found shortly the estate will revert to the state in which it is located," Cox writes. Cox's offices are in the Federal Reserve bank building, at Chicago, and letters should be addressed to him there.

Burger was well known here and will be remembered by residents of the period of his residence here as an expert accountant and an employer for many years of the Griffith Lumber company, the

17 Years in Public Life

I have spent the last 17 years of my life as legislator, speaker of the assembly, and lieutenant governor, in an earnest endeavor to do all that lay within my power in the service of my state. During that time I have seen the governmental affairs of California rescued from the grasp of corrupt political machine control. Fifteen years ago, I saw created a sane, forward-looking government with policies of educational, social, industrial and economic advancement which have contributed mightily to the well being of our state and to the happiness and prosperity of its people.

"Within the past three years, I have seen the threatened ruin of all those splendid accomplishments of the 12 years which had gone before. I have seen a government, masquerading as 'economic', while actually expending more in four years than had ever been spent in any former eight years in the history of the state. I have seen our schools system crippled, our prisons mismanaged, our humanitarian activities curtailed, our fine spirit of loyal public service destroyed."

"Realizing that a fight must be made and won to rescue California from its present intolerable governmental conditions, I early dedicated myself to a part in that fight with little personal preference as to what or how important such part should be. My one desire was for complete and final victory in the redemption of our state. I have long been importuned from every section of California to assume the leadership in this contest. I have delayed, hoping that some way would be found by which agreement as to a standard-bearer might be made manifest. As time goes on it is becoming more and more apparent that no such way will be found, that this matter of so crucial importance bids fair to drag along indefinitely, and that a situation is rapidly arising where hesitation and inaction, if longer continued, is bound to play into the hands of our opponents. Accordingly, I feel that I have no right further to refuse to listen to the urging of those men and women of California who have worked with me for so many years and to whom this crisis means so much."

"Hence the announcement of my candidacy, at this time. I am in the fight, and in the fight to stay."

YOUNG ENTERS G. O. P. RACE FOR GOVERNOR

Berkeley Man Is First to Throw Hat in Ring for Primaries Next August

LT. Gov. C. C. Young, of Berkeley, has announced his candidacy for the Republican nomination for governor of California, at the next primary election. The lieutenant governor is the first to announce his candidacy for the gubernatorial nomination.

Mr. Young, in a telegram to J. P. Baumgartner, editor of The Register, today made the following statement of his political policies:

"I have, during the last few days, been in receipt of many communications from many counties of the state urging my consent to become a candidate for the office of governor of California. In response to these, I have consented, and to that end shall submit my name to the voters at the Republican primaries of next August."

BIG GUN WILL BE BROUGHT ACROSS CONTINENT FOR WEST COAST DEFENSE

This giant 14-inch gun, which weighs 250,000 pounds, is to travel all the way from Aberdeen, Md., to Fort McArthur, at San Pedro, where it will form part of the coast defense. Below the gun is shown firing at a target 25 miles away; above, in position for traveling.

ACTIVITIES IN OIL FIELDS IN ORANGE COUNTY CENTER ABOUT WILDCAT TEST WELLS

Abandonment of the Associated Oil company test well, Hellman No. 1, at Seal Beach, the spudding in of the Shell test well on the Von Shultz property, at Talbert, the completion of several redrill wells at Huntington Beach and a report of good indications in a deep test well on the Waterman property, of the Marine Corporation, in Costa Mesa, are the highlights of the oil situation along the Orange county coast today.

The Hellman well in the Seal Beach section was down 5700 feet, according to reports, and although poor indications were encountered, the company is contemplating the drilling of at least two more test wells on the property. The prevailing impression among field men is that the Hellman well was too far north to hit oil. It has long been a theory that a hidden pool lies somewhere in the district, but the efforts of wildcat wells have met with disappointing results.

New Depth Records Test wells in the Seal Beach district are establishing records for depth. The Shell company's Bryant No. 3 is now drilling at a depth of 7025 feet, and the company has evinced no evidence of stopping for some time yet. It is believed that the well may be carried on to a world's record. The record for depth is now held by E. J. Miley's Athens No. 1, at a depth of 7561 feet.

According to officials of the Associated company, the second test well on the Hellman property will be drilled to a depth of about 5000 feet after a careful survey of the logs of surrounding wells has enabled the geologists to determine a site for the well.

The Shell Oil company is ready to start operations on its Alamitos Land company lease, southeast of the Hellman property, according to reports today. The Marland Oil company is down 2100 feet on the Bixby lease. The lease formerly was held by the Shell Oil company, which drilled the southern end of the lease. The Marland company is testing the northern section.

South of Seal Beach the Standard Oil company is abandoning its Bolsa Chica No. 18, at a depth of 5814. Ready to Spud In The Shell Oil company was ready to spud today at their test well in the Talbert district. The rig was up Saturday. It is located about one-fourth of a mile north and east of Talbert. It is understood that the company expects to carry the well to a depth of 3500 feet. Geologists claim that an oil strata should be encountered at about 2500 feet. The company lease calls for the start of operations before October 15. A large acreage has been leased in the Talbert basin to the Shell company.

Excellent indications are claimed to have been encountered in the deep test well being sunk on the Waterman property in Costa Mesa. The well was down near the 2500-foot mark today. It is understood that the well will be carried to a depth of 5000 feet if necessary. Wells in the district around Costa Mesa and Newport have been producing from 15 to 50 barrels of low gravity oil per day from a depth of 150 to 800 feet.

Well 'Acting Up' The California Petroleum company's well, Brown No. 3, at Huntington Beach, was being swabbed out today, with production estimated at 150 barrels of high gravity oil. The well has been 'acting up' lately and blew rocks and shale over the top of the derrick several times when gas pockets were encountered. The well was cemented at a depth of 3456 feet.

The Snowlene Oil company at Huntington Beach, redrilling Portland No. 1, was ready to make a production test today. According to drillers, indications for a producer are good.

A large number of wells are being redrilled in the Huntington Beach field in the hopes of developing oil zones which were overlooked in the boom five years ago.

P. E. RAILROAD SUES CITY FOR PAVING COSTS

The Pacific Electric Railway company claims that the city of Santa Ana has failed to keep its promise, to pay for the paving of a crossing on East Myrtle street.

In a suit on file in superior court today, the railway company asks judgment for $655.01 against the city. It claims that after an agreement had been granted by the city for opening East Myrtle street across the railway tracks, in 1923, it was ruled by the state railroad commission that the city should pay the expense of paving at the crossing.

The city then asked the railway company to have the paving done and agreed to pay for it. The complaint states, but the pay has not been forthcoming, it is said, so the matter has been placed in the courts. Attorney Frank Karr, Los Angeles, is counsel for the Pacific Electric company.

ANOTHER DRUG STORE ROBBERY REPORTED

By prying open the front door, burglars early today entered the drug store of L. N. Jean, 1301 West Fourth street, and after looting the place, escaped with approximately $330 worth of merchandise.

Police are of the opinion that the burglary was committed by the same gang that robbed three drug stores last Sunday night, in that the tactics were the same and the same kind of articles taken.

Watch chains, stickpins and belt buckles, valued at $250, were stolen, together with razors, a manicure set, face powder, cigarettes, flashlights and cigars.

According to a report filed with the police, an ice man, on his early morning rounds, saw an automobile driven from the front door of the drug store shortly after 4 o'clock this morning. Persons in the neighborhood are also said to have seen an automobile parked in front of the drug store early today.

The store was opened for business at 5 o'clock this morning, and police believe that this was not more than an hour after the burglary was committed.

The front door of the place was nearly broken from its hinges and was badly split by the men in their attempt to pry the lock from its socket.

Officers Smithwick and Lentz, who are working on the case, said today that they were of the opinion that the burglars also were looking for whiskey in that several doors back of the prescription counter were found broken into. No whiskey was found.

LIVING IN PAST SAN FRANCISCO.—Columbia, Calif., has just made an official count of its population, a small job it was, too! At one time this town boasted not only of a population of 15,000 and a position of third largest city in the state, but also it claimed a gold yield of approximately $60,000,000. The count showed 300 inhabitants but they all say that the old town's coming back some day!

S. A. REALTORS RETURN HOME FROM MEETING

Santa Ana realtors attending the 21st annual convention of the California Real Estate association at Fresno had returned home today, each declaring that the conclave was one of the best yet held by the organization.

According to Freeman H. Bloodgood, the addresses and discussions presented many features of an educational nature both to dealers and laymen. The type of men leading the discussions and the manner in which they handled their topics clearly indicated the personnel of the organization and the influences of the association in elevating the business of selling real estate from a "job" to a profession, Bloodgood said.

Election of Harry Culver, of Los Angeles, to the presidency of the state institution, was hailed with joy by members throughout the state, and prediction was made that, under his administration, the association the coming year would be even more successful than it has been in the past—and it is admitted that achievements of past presidents have been remarkable.

A number of Santa Ana realtors stand high in the councils of the organization and took prominent parts in the conferences and in the general activity of the convention.

As one of the vice presidents and the immediate past president of the association, Everett A. White was in charge of the general convention at different times, presiding when President Richard Ainsley was engaged in private conferences.

Bloodgood was a speaker at several conferences and at general sessions. F. C. Pope, a vice president, presided at some of the luncheons.

W. B. Martin, secretary of the Santa Ana board, was a judge in the achievement contest. Orange county men elected to the board of directors were as follows: W. J. Elliott, Anaheim; H. H. Brooks, Fullerton; F. M. Reaf-snyder, Garden Grove; Roy W. Peacock, Laguna Beach; Howard Williams, Orange; F. C. Pope and Carl Mock, Santa Ana.

Del Monte was selected as the convention city for 1926.

MANY EVENTS ARE SCHEDULED AT Y.

As usual tonight will be one of the busiest times of the week at the Y. M. C. A. By arrangement of the program for this year, every Monday brings a group of activities that fill the facilities of the building almost to capacity.

Two dinners are scheduled, one being the opening meeting of the Santa Ana Hi-Y club, and the other the regular meeting of the Success club. The class in public speaking will meet at 7 o'clock, and Jean Morris Ellis will lecture at 8:00 o'clock in "Crime, Its Cause and Cure," which will be free to the public. The class in psychology will meet at the lecture, instead of in its regular Monday night session. The usual gymnasium classes are scheduled for the afternoon and evening.

Secretary Ralph C. Smalley calls attention to the public lecture by Mrs. Ellis, at 8 o'clock, which, he says, will be of great and timely interest to all citizens concerned about the present disregard for law and order.

Will See Mother After 40 Years

To visit his mother for the first time in 40 years, D. W. Ellis, Greenville man, left Santa Ana early today for Gibson Station, Va. Mr. Ellis is accompanied by his wife and daughter, Ruth Ellis. They will visit Chicago, Nashville, Tenn., and New Orleans before returning to their home in Orange county, next month.

STIRRING DAYS IN ANNALS OF ORANGE COUNTY ARE RECOUNTED

Historical Society Meets at Home of Mrs. Travis on Santa Ana River

PAPER ON YORBA FAMILY IS READ

Gathering Is Held Short Distance from Residence Of Original Grantee

Stirring events in the early history of Orange county, especially as it concerned the Yorba family, were recounted Saturday afternoon at the meeting of the Orange County Historical society, held at the home of Mrs. J. C. Travis, a granddaughter of Bernardo Yorba, on the Santa Ana river at Yorba. Mrs. Travis lives but a short distance from the home of Bernardo Yorba, who was the original grantee under the Spanish grants of land extending as far inland as Corona. About 40 of the 143 descendants of Bernardo Yorba now living were present. About 60 members of the historical society attended the meeting, according to S. M. Davis, of Santa Ana, secretary.

The principal paper of the afternoon was that read by Charles J. Prudhomme, of Los Angeles, connected with the Historical Society of Southern California. His paper was entitled, "A Romantic History Clings to the Santa Ana Land Grant—A History of the Yorba family." Accompanying Mr. Prudhomme to the meeting were Arthur M. Ellis, J. Groggs Lyons and A. Wackerbarth, experts on Southland history, living in Los Angeles.

Another speaker was J. E. Pleasants, of Orange county, one of the best known pioneers of this district. Pleasants told of the man hunt in 1857 for the outlaw Flores and his band, who had killed Sheriff Barton, of Los Angeles, and two of his deputies.

A posse organized among the citizens caught Flores and two of his gang. Pleasants said, near Modjeska's and they were hanged in a branch of the Santiago canyon. Pleasants assisted in burying the bones of the outlaws and not long ago dug up an old gun which, it is believed, was used by one of the posse or one of the bandits. Arthur Ellis, whose collection of historical photographs concerning early Southern California is said to be unexcelled, took a picture of the historical society members at the Yorba home.

NURSE FILES SUIT FOR $6420 WAGES

Emily Haas, trained nurse, living in Anaheim, today carried into the courts her fight to collect $6420 wages, claimed to be due from the estate of the late Christian Haas.

The nurse declares that she nursed Haas and his wife, Mrs. Emma Haas, also deceased, for approximately three years, without remuneration. Her suit was filed against Charles C. Haas, executor of the late Christian Haas estate. Attorney Leonard Evans, of Anaheim, represents her.

In her complaint, the plaintiff sets forth that she nursed Mrs. Haas from April 18, 1913, to Oct. 29, 1921, the date of Mrs. Haas' death. Her services as nurse to Christian Haas commenced the day before the death of Mrs. Haas and continued until April 8, 1922, she states.

Stage and Screen

Ben Lyon, Dorothy Sebastian and Viola Dana in a scene from "Winds of Chance," current attraction at the West End theater.

WEST END THEATER
Frank Lloyd, First National producer-director, found the thrills he brought forth members of his "Winds of Chance" company 2000 miles to obtain in British Columbia where he made this picture which is showing at the West End theater.

Lloyd reproduced the hazardous voyages of barges on the Yukon river, running the rapids of Miles canyon and White Horse during Alaskan gold rush days, in Seymour Gorge, and, according to Alaskan experts on the picture, achieved scenes not only of extraordinary accuracy, but perhaps the most thrilling rapids scenes ever photographed by a motion picture camera.

The first day's "shooting" in the gorge brought Viola Dana, Hobart Bosworth, Victor McLaglen and John T. Murray down through the rapids in a barge with such terrific speed and uncertainty that even the hundreds of spectators who watched from atop the high walls of the gorge yelled in their excitement as the barge was turned, tossed and whirled about by the rough water of the stream.

Initial scenes made it necessary for the barge to float a distance of nearly a mile downstream.

and skim over the rapids, which in several places dropped more than ten feet, causing the boat to vanish from the view of the camera in making the "dip".

On the second day Ben Lyon, J. Gunnis Davis, Fred Warren and McLaglen "shot" the rapids with equal thrills, and each succeeding day the water rose to higher levels due to melting snows in the mountains.

WEST COAST-WALKER
A charm that will rub the frowns from the face of mankind is D. W. Griffith's newest picture, "Sally of the Sawdust," now being shown at the West Coast-Walker theater, in conjunction with Fanchon and Marco's huge stage presentation, "Screenland Beauties of 1925," in which many of filmdom's baby stars are making personal appearances.

"Sally of the Sawdust" is all sunny laughter, merry jest, quaint drolleries tucked into an interesting story that marches along to a finish as funny and exciting as anything that has ever been delivered to the silver screen. Griffith has set aside all problems and all lessons, to tell one of the gayest stories of his career; easily the funniest picture he has ever made and one ranking with the best of screen comedies.

Few pictures have offered such variety of scenes, such casual lavishness in dress as does "Sally of the Sawdust." Without a hesitating moment from the start, it gathers refreshing speed as it proceeds, until it establishes itself as one of the quickest, merriest, most human and thoroughly entertaining films ever shown. The greatest array of screen talent ever presented in person on a stage in Santa Ana is in "Screenland Beauties of 1925," presented by Fanchon and Marco. These baby stars offer a solid hour of real high class entertainment that more than pleased the record breaking crowd, which attended the opening performances yesterday.

Among those making personal appearances and doing special numbers are LaNore Delara from Warner Bros., Malvina Polo from Universal, Arline Langdon, Jack White Studio sponsored by Lloyd Hamilton, Nellie Kelly of the Larry Semon company and Jinette Vallon from Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer studio.

Carlos and Jinette, of dancing fame in many of the large picture productions offer a novelty number the "Dance of the Toys." The well known comedian Eddie Moran favors with a song and keeps the audience in an uproar with his timely remarks.

YOST THEATER

At the mention of "rehearsal rompers" one's mind, if it is attuned to such things, leaps to thoughts of show girls, dimpled knees and a one-piece outfit of checked gingham that covers as little as possible of the aforementioned "lady of the ensemble."

To Rod La Rocque, 6 foot leading man for Bebe Daniels in "Wild, Wild Susan," coming to the Yost theater tonight, the term means something else again. Edward Sutherland, who directed the picture, issued a call for La Rocque to appear on the "haunted house set" dressed in rehearsal rompers. The haunted house is the scene for many humorous incidents in the picture, and like most haunted houses its principal occupants are dust, cobwebs and mice.

Bebe Daniels, as a girl detective masquerading in boy's clothing, appeared on the scene, ready to begin rehearsals of the intricate scenes. But Rod was not to be seen. One assistant was dispatched to his dressing room, another to the studio restaurant, a third to make a tour of the offices in search of the missing actor. After a thorough hunt the three returned to the set and announced in chorus that La Rocque was not to be found. At mention of the name, a tall figure clad in brown denim overalls detached himself from a little knot of electricians and studio carpenters and shouted: "Present—early."

The director and star were startled to see La Rocque, looking for all the world like a $15-a-day electrician going back for his tools, step up and declare his readiness for action. When asked about the workman's disguise, he stated that if he was going to play around in the dust he intended to do a thorough job of it, and had dressed for the part in a pair of rehearsal rompers.

Opportunity Is Given Women to Study Oratory

Secretary Ralph C. Smedley, of the Y. M. C. A., announced this morning that since there are three or four places in the class in public speaking that have not been filled by men, a few women may gain admittance to the class tonight.

Clayton R. Rogers, class instructor, has given his consent to the arrangement, although his preference is not to have his classes mixed. Several women have been eager to enter the course, and this will give them the opportunity which was denied until the men failed to fill all the places.

The class will meet at 7 o'clock tonight for two hours of instruction and practice in speech making.

Your Name will be Found in the 1926 DIRECTORY

The DIRECTORY will be MADE IN ORANGE COUNTY

THE PUBLIC is interested in the new City and County DIRECTORY, work on which is now under way. For the first time the gathering of information and materials and the printing, binding and distribution is to be done by local people.

Many merchants have telephoned in their approval and their reservations. This DIRECTORY, announced by the Merchants & Manufacturers association, has been endorsed for 100 per cent home support. To meet the needs in the city and county the lists will be as accurate and complete as skilled census takers can make them.

A dependable directory is necessary to every business.

More than 100,000 people live and enjoy life in Orange County and the Chamber of Commerce gives the population of Santa Ana alone at 31,000. You can find any one of these people when the new directory comes out—we will strive to make the DIRECTORY thorough. It will be up-to-date, an accurate and ready guide to streets, stores, offices, shops and homes. It will be your quickest and surest aid in finding people or their correct names and addresses.

All these names will be sought many times in the coming months and year, as thousands daily turn through the pages of the 1926 DIRECTORY. That is why it is an advertising medium of recognized value, deserving the best patronage. The merchant, the specialist, banker, broker, manufacturer, repairman, transfer man, each and all will want an individual space in the big DIRECTORY.

Your business will by this advertising be brought into the public eye and mind countless times throughout the year. Your business or profession will also be made more conspicuous in the lists by the use of special black type.

Make your reservations for space in the 1926 DIRECTORY now. Remember—this is the DIRECTORY which has received the approval of the Merchants, and which will inaugurate a permanent and better service in the community.

Early entries make it possible for us to give the best service and for you to get the best possible position. Telephone 117.

lutions adopted by the district. Adding a patriotic touch to the atmosphere was the formal presentation of a large silk American flag to the district organization from the Women's Relief Corps, No. 131, Fullerton. The presentation speech was made by Mrs. C. L. Rollins, auxiliary instructor of the G. A. R. auxiliary, who in her remarks called attention to the fact that the national emblem is something infinitely more than a piece of cloth, a mere banner featuring certain familiar colors, the red, white and blue.

Grown-ups as much as children should be taught that when we look up and salute Old Glory, we are paying homage to the nation itself, to its history, to its government, to the great principles of liberty and justice upon which it was founded. Mrs. Rollins declared. The presentation ceremony was preceded by a stirring address made by Mrs. Kuenzli, of Brea, district patriotic instructor. She stressed the importance of true patriotism and high standard of citizenship on the part of every individual American, the expressions of which should not be limited to holiday occasions but be manifested in our everyday life.

An account of the proceedings would not be complete without mentioning the splendid hospitality extended by the Fullerton P.-T. A. associations, the arrangements for which had been worked out by their members under direction of Mrs. C. A. Marcy, president of the Fullerton organization, and Mrs. Ellen J. Selfridge, president of the Fullerton, Maple Avenue association. Eliciting much favorable comment among the visitors were the handsome floral decorations that had transformed the auditorium into a flower garden.

A prolonged demonstration greeted Mrs. Hugh Bradford, state president, as she entered the hall and was escorted to the platform. Later in the evening the popular state executive was presented with a huge bouquet of roses, given by the district organization. Another bouquet was given to Mrs. J. Edmund Snow, district president, presented by the Fullerton associations.

At the outset of her address, Mrs. Bradford paid tribute to the organization of the fourth district, which she said, was a model district in every respect. She praised the splendid leadership of Mrs. Snow and her able officers, in which commendation she included the chairmen of departments and presidents of local associations.

Tracing the history of the P.-T. A. movement, the state executive declared that not only has the organization enlisted the support and endorsement of prominent educators and school men throughout the country, but today the movement has extended across the seas to foreign countries. As a result there is every reason to believe that within a few years the P.-T. A. will be an international movement, thus adding another agency for the promotion of peace and international good will, she added.

She stressed the value of pre-school work, that of making the children physically fit for their class room work. Touching upon the subject of obscene literature, she thought that it is a question to be taken up with the publishers and not with the news dealer. "Today, the greatest danger in this respect," she went on, "does not lie in the out-and-out brazen magazines, the front covers of which advertise their contents, but with the supposedly good magazines in which now and then a questionable story appears. Parents should take care to examine the reading matter brought to the home, and if they find something objectionable, they should address their complaint to the publisher instead of the news dealer, she declared.

Disappointment awaited those who had come to hear Assemblyman Hartnuff speak on school legislation. Instead of discussing the different measures in which he had a prominent part as chairman of the legislative committee on education, the Fullerton legislator limited his address to a general discourse on the duties of mothers and teachers. He thought that altogether too many mothers turn over the home education of their children. Then, he said, when there is a breakdown, the school is blamed. He urged the mothers to do their part by their children, and not expect the school teachers to assume the double function of parent and teacher. Concerning the present day teacher, the speaker had many things to say, some of which were not altogether complimentary to the teaching profession. Drawing a picture of what he considered the ideal school teacher, he asserted that today there is a real scarcity of good teachers, while on the other hand there is abundant supply of so-called make-believe teachers, who, by training, temperament and general inclination are unfit for the schools.

ing profession. Drawing a picture of what he considered the ideal school teacher, he asserted that today there is a real scarcity of good teachers, while on the other hand there is abundant supply of so-called make-believe teachers, who, by training, temperament and general inclination are unfit for the schools.

Speaking further he said that he deplored any discriminatory measures against married teachers. "Good teachers are too scarce to allow fine, experienced teachers to leave the schools on account of marriage. And to ask women teachers to forsake marriage is to impose too great a sacrifice on the profession," he continued. Coupled with this observation, he intimated that he would prefer experienced, married teachers, who had made a success in their profession, to young, inexperienced teachers who are merely entering the schools for a meal ticket, and who themselves realize that they are complete failures and out of touch with their work.

Reports of department chairmen, covering work of the last year and plans for the coming season, took up a part of the meeting. The juvenile situation was explained by Leroy A. Warren, county probation officer, who assured the P.-T. A. workers that there has been a decided improvement in the situation.

SUNDAY SCHOOL SECURES FUNDS FOR FURNITURE

HUNTINGTON BEACH, Oct. 12.—Funds to furnish their class room in the Christian church were secured by the members of the Sunday school class taught by Mrs. C. A. Heron, Saturday. The girls held a cooked food sale in a downtown store. A considerable amount was raised, and this will be used to purchase new curtains and chairs.

Mrs. Heron was in charge of the sale. She was assisted by the members of the class, as follows: Misses Dorothy Lee, Pearl Dowdy, Carmen Fryer, Pauline Brewster, Mildred Payne, Marian Graham, Ethel Bartholomew, Anna Weiner, Wilma Yinsley, Nedra Short, Eileen Young, Ruth Blivins, Grace Wardman and Elsie Archibald.

STAR PROBE ON DEATH OF MAIL AVIATOR

BELLEFOUNTE, Pa., Oct. 12.—A board of investigation today began an inquiry into the cause of the death of Charles H. Ames, air mail pilot, who sacrificed his life at Hecla Gap, near here, to bring the mail through.

Ames' body, strapped to his plane, was found yesterday by 15-year-old Charles Dearett, member of a searching party. The plane was cut asunder by the crash.

Although Ames was killed, the mail was safe and untouched.

Ames' body was found less than 100 yards from the beacon light at the top of Hecla Gap. This was the place from which the search started for Ames on October 1, when he was first reported missing.

Death is instantaneous.

Coroner's Physician W. R. Neaton, Phillipsburg, declared that Ames' death was instantaneous. His skull was split open and he was found on top of three mail sacks which had fallen out of the mail compartment which was splintered open by the fall. The hole in the left side of his head and a badly crushed face were mute evidence that he had been killed in the crash.

The plane was a complete wreck, both wings being torn off and broken and the big Liberty motor was broken in two lengthwise.

The mail was found intact.

The pilot and his plane were found on the direct air mail course to Bellefonte, on the north side of the second ridge in the Nittany mountain range and about half way down the mountainside.

Puzzled By Fog

It was not more than half a mile from the Hecla Gap beacon light when the plane was broken off near the ground when struck by the ponderous machine.

The lad who found Ames and his plane was one of a searching party of 24 organized at Hecla Sunday by L. H. McMullen and Charles Workman. They started out at 9 a. m., equipped with lunches and prepared to spend the day in the mountains.

Ames' body will be taken to Hollywood, Calif., for burial by his brother, Paul Ames, of Washington, D. C. Ames' father and mother are living in Hollywood.

Tractor Versus Boys In Unique War Tug Battle

DAVIS, Calif., Oct. 12.—Boy power will be pitted against horsepower at the eleventh annual convention of agriculture clubs which will be held here October 15 to 17.

Nine thousand pounds of husky boys will try their strength against that of a 3000-pound tractor, in a unique tug-of-war contest during the convention.

The convention will be attended by 700 boys and girls, who have won agricultural club contests during the last year.

Offers Drink to Cop, Released On Bail of $100

Too much sociability cost George W. Larry, Los Angeles man, $100 in bail Saturday night.

Larry stopped his machine at Orange to buy a sandwich and a cup of coffee. In a restaurant, he met Earl Shaffer, Orange police officer, in uniform. The two men began talking to each other.

"Want a drink?" Larry is also to have asked.

"No, I don't drink," the officer returned.

"Well, thought maybe you did. I got a bottle out there in the car," Larry is said to have answered.

So the officer went outside, found the machine, searched it, located the bottle, returned, arrested Larry, took him to Orange, charged him with possession of intoxicating liquor and then turned his loose when he deposited $100 bail. Officer Shaffer said he did not expect the man to return.

MAN FOUND DEAD ON INGLE RANCH

John McCall, 77, who lived on the Ingle ranch, near the Orange county hospital, was found dead in his bed early yesterday morning by Mr. Ingle, owner of the ranch. Apoplexy is thought to have been the cause of death.

McCall was employed as a walnut picker on the ranch. He was seemingly in the best of health Saturday night, when he was last seen alive.

Coroner Charles D. Briwn will hold an inquest into the man's death in the Coffey and Day funeral parlors, Orange, tomorrow, the time to be announced later.

McCall is survived by a son, Jack McCall, of Indianapolis, Ind.

DO NOT ALLOW USE OF GERMS IN RAT FIGHT

SACRAMENTO, Oct. 12.—"Planting" of disease germs for the purpose of creating epidemics among rodents has been forbidden by the state board of health.

While, it is explained, the board of health is eager to aid in the extermination of rats, the use of disease germs may lead to serious consequences.

The procedure of the board has been to adopt a resolution forbidding the sale of so called rat exterminators, the efficacy of which depends upon the use of cultures of bacteria.

The authorities take the stand that this method is fraught with too much danger of contaminating food supplies intended for human consumption.

The department of agriculture, in co-operation with the health authorities, has refused to recognize rat poisons believed dangerous to the public health.

In a statement, the attitude of the department of agriculture is further explained:

"From experiments conducted by the board of health, it has been shown that rats infected with disease may cause contamination of foodstuffs in warehouses and elsewhere. It also has been found that the bacteria may change in form to such an extent as to be dangerous to human beings."

Fear is expressed by the health authorities that the virus laden excrements might lead to the production of a chronic carrier state in rodents.

TINY FEATHERED WANDERER FINDS 'HOME SWEET HOME' DEAREST IN LITTLE HEART

Home is probably as dear to the heart of a bird as it is to the heart of man, and a little yellow canary, which last week was the John Howard Payne of birdland, and chirped sadly of "Home Sweet Home" when afar and among strangers, is today fluttering with delight because he is again in his own comfortable cage and receiving the devoted attention of his mistress, Mrs. Arthur J. O'Brien, 911 East First street.

The adventurous young bird sought freedom last week and fluttered just at nightfall to the lighted windows of the Robert M. Simon home, at 2110 North Broadway, where his frenzied desire to get into the warmth and light aroused the attention of Mr. Simon. He was given shelter, food and attention, and a story, published in The Register, called attention to his presence in the Simon home.

Soon after the paper was out Saturday afternoon, telephone calls began coming to Mr. and Mrs. Simon and five different owners sought canaries which had escaped within the last two weeks. None could claim ownership, however, until Mrs. O'Brien called and her description fitted the small feathered guest to a nicety.

The owner was overjoyed for the canary was a great pet and when his cage was deserted and he failed to come back, his disconsolate mistress had strewn it with flowers in his memory. The flowers of grief were gladly changed to those of welcome and now the wanderer sings happily on his own home perch for home is probably as dear to the heart of a bird as it is to the heart of a man.

Herbert Moore and his sister, Miss Edith L. Moore left today on the Santa Fe California Limited for Marinette, Wis., taking the remains of their mother, Mrs. Bessie B. Moore of Laguna Beach, there for interment. Mrs. Moore met a tragic death from burns incurred when her clothing caught fire in her home at Laguna Beach.

Mrs. Anna Eliza James, who passed away yesterday at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Inez Smith at Beverly Hills, was the sister of Mrs. Inez Hall of this city and of Senator P. J. McCumber of Washington, D. C.

Ernest L. Madden, proprietor of the White Cross Drug store, left Saturday on the City of Los Angeles for a trip to the Hawaiian Islands. He is making the trip as the guest of L. V. Christopher of Los Angeles, an old friend of the family. The men are members of the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce excursion and the itinerary shows many features of interest for the trip. C. P. Kryhl of this city is also on board the City of Los Angeles. The party will be absent three weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Schlasman and Mrs. H. T. Townner and children spent the week end with relatives and friends in Long Beach.

Mr. and Mrs. E. O. Enlow (Madam Marie Louise) of 315 West Third street enjoyed a visit on Saturday from their friends, Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Cressey of Beverly Hills, and the latter's sister, Madame Julie of New York city. Mrs. Cressey and Madame Julie are aunts of Clara Kimball Young. Madame Julie is famous among fashion experts as a designer of exclusive gowns, and collaborates with the well-known "Lucille" of magazine fame. She is greatly impressed with Santa Ana, and may decide to locate somewhere in the southland.

Mr. and Mrs. B. L. Halderman of 1133 East Washington avenue are receiving the congratulations of friends upon the birth, October 9, of a little daughter in their home.

Mr. and Mrs. Amos N. Cox of 1517 North Main street were in Los Angeles yesterday to see their new little grandson, William Robert Wood, who was born on Friday night at St. Vincent's hospital, Los Angeles, to Mr. and Mrs. Ray Wood (Vivian Cox). The young man weight eight and three-quarters pounds.

60 PER MEANT NOTHING WHEN FIGURED OUT

Pursuant to the general order which went out to police officers in the city and county several days ago to be "easy" on motorists who are visitors in the county, Motorcycle Officer Henry Meehan allowed a driver to proceed after the driver, himself, had admitted that he was going "60" per hour.

The car was an Italian built machine, bearing a Rome, Italy, license plate.

Meehan saw the machine speeding along the road and immediately gave chase. The driver spoke good English.

"Do you know how fast you were going?" Meehan asked.

"Oh, not a bit over 60," the Italian replied.

This confused the Orange county motor cop until he realized that the driver was speaking in kilometers instead of miles, then remembering how he should be "nice" to visitors, he allowed the Italian car to go on its way.

Meehan said today he did not believe the driver knew what the siren meant when he pulled in the machine, although the Italian understood the English language when he told him he was speeding.

PLAN TO WELCOME FATHER EUMMELEN

A reception will be held tomorrow night at 8 o'clock at the Knights of Columbus hall to welcome home the Very Rev. Monsignor Henry Eummelen, pastor of St. Joseph's church, who will arrive in Los Angeles on the Lark tomorrow morning at 8 o'clock. He will be met by a delegation in Los Angeles.

The meeting of Capistrano Institute, Y. L. L., will be held 7 p. m., in the hall, only necessary business to be transacted, the regular program having been postponed, in order to make way for the reception.

All neighboring priests are given an invitation to be present, together with all parishioners and friends of the pastor in the city and vicinity.

J. P. Murphy, grand knight of Santa Ana council, Knights of Columbus, is in charge of arrangements, assisted by committees from the various Catholic organizations.

Besides the speeches of welcome, there will be a brief musical program and a talk by Father Eummelen about his trip to Europe and to Rome. He has been away two months.

Raymond Vegely, died today in the soldiers' home in Sawtelle, at the age of 47 years. Funeral services had not been completed today and announcement of the hour and place will be made tomorrow.

Mrs. Vegely was a son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Vegely, 1445 Durant street, this city and a nephew of Ed Vegely, city clerk.

The deceased was a resident of Santa Ana for many years and was engaged here in various lines of endeavor, mostly with the automobile industry.

He was a veteran of the World war and his health was impaired in the service. He was unmarried.

Traffic Dangers Cause of Fewer Baby Carriages

TOLEDO, O., Oct. 12.—Despite the fact that babies are being born in the United States at a rate of one every 30 seconds, the use of the baby carriages is falling off.

This bit of sociological phenomenon was divulged by J. Weir Coover, secretary of the Gendron Wheel company, one of the oldest baby carriage concerns in the country.

Coover attributed the decreased demand to the danger of crossing the streets.

Tustin Briefs

TUSTIN, Oct. 12.—Mrs. Fannie Dresser, of Santa Ana, was the hostess to the Missionary society of the Advent Christian church Thursday afternoon. The regular missionary work of the organization was taken up and several quilts were started. Mrs. Harry L. Hansen reviewed a book of missionary topics for the members. Refreshments were served by the hostess, Mrs. Dresser.

LEGAL BATTLE OVER LAND AT BEACH LOOMS

Railway Claims Property Adjoining Its Tracks; Attorney to Report

HUNTINGTON BEACH, Oct. 12.—A hard fought legal battle between the City of Huntington Beach and the Pacific Electric Railway loomed today over the question of whether land adjoining the Pacific Electric tracks belongs to the company or is public property.

The question was brought to a head at the last meeting of the city council, when a representative of the Pacific Electric presented a lease to the trustees for their signatures. The lease was for the rental of the property adjoining the tracks. The city trustees refused to sign the lease, declaring that they would take the matter under advisement.

That a distinct legal point is involved in the question is admitted. The city has improved the property and the ground in question is now being used as parking space. The fact that it has been used as parking for the general public for several years may tend to prove that the land is now public property.

It is expected that the issue will be fought out in court during the coming months. The trustees expect to receive a report on the matter from City Attorney L. W. Blodgett when they convene for the special meeting tomorrow evening.

Try the Pennant special family dinners. Individual service, 60c and 75c, served from 5 to 8 p. m.

Scouts To Be H. B. Legion Post's Guests

HUNTINGTON BEACH, Oct. 12.—Local Legionnaires will be hosts tonight to local Boy Scouts in the Legion hall on Third street. Jack Robertson, commander of the local Legion post will be in charge.

H. B. SOCIETY PLANS JAPAN PARTY OCT. 13

HUNTINGTON BEACH, Oct. 12.—Japanese songs, literature and talks will feature a party of the Missionary society of the Christian church here, October 13, it was announced today.

The affair will open at 6:30 o'clock with a pot-luck dinner. Those who can be asked to come dressed in Japanese costumes. The reception committee and others will be dressed in the costumes of Japan. The Rev. J. G. Hurst will deliver an address on Japan. Miss Pauline Brewster will play Japanese selections on the piano. A Japanese love song will be given by Mrs. C. A. Hutton. Mrs. Genevieve White will read several selections from Japanese literature, and Japanese songs will be presented by Miss Lucille Harrell, and Miss Dorothy Vincent, in duet numbers.

COLLECTION OF GARBAGE WILL BE CONSIDERED

HUNTINGTON BEACH, Oct. 12.—Approval of the assignment of a garbage collecting contract was let to Harper to collect the garbage, as he was low bidder for the job. Harper appeared at the city hall and explained that he was having trouble locating a place to dispose of the garbage. He secured Thomas to collect the garbage while he straightened out his troubles. The contract was unsigned.

Then Thomas, failing to hear from Harper, asked the city council where he stood and what he was to get for collecting the garbage. The council debated the matter and decided to give Harper five days in which to sign the contract. Saturday, Harper appeared at the city hall, signed the contract and then assigned it over to Thomas.

Commerce Body Postpones Meet

HUNTINGTON BEACH, Oct. 12.—No meeting of the chamber of commerce was held today, Columbus day. The organization will not meet until next Monday, when matters deferred from the last meeting will be taken up. It is expected that a report will be made by the committee recently appointed to investigate a protest against alleged high water rates. The city hall, with the exception of the police and fire departments, was closed today.

YOUTHFUL SHOE DEALER OF ORANGE IS MISSING; POLICE WITHOUT CLUES

ORANGE, Oct. 12.—A determined search for Julius Milbratt, young shoe merchant of Orange, who disappeared last week under mysterious circumstances, was going on today under the direction of police of the Southland, and his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Milbratt.

Young Milbratt left without a word to anyone as to his future movements or plans, if he had any. He dropped from sight last Tuesday, after saying he was going to a barber shop. Hours passed, then days without any trace or word of him, although it is rumored that he has been seen in San Bernardino. No motive is advanced for the strange disappearance, unless it could be business worries. Though foul play could be possible, nothing that would indicate such an occurrence has been found. The youth is well liked and has no enemies, it was declared.

TUSTIN HIGH CLASS TO GIVE PLAY OCT. 15

TUSTIN, Oct. 12.—The dramatics class, under the direction of Miss Olive LaClair, will put on the first assembly entertainment to be staged by any class at the high school this year. It was announced today. Plans for several short plays have been laid by the dramatics class.

The first one-act play to be given by the class will be presented in assembly, October 15. The class at that time will give "At the Movies." The second appearance of the class members will be on October 29, when they will put on a one-act play entitled "Never the Less." S. C. Hartman, assemblyman, will speak to the student body at special assembly, October 22. Thursday and Friday, November 5 and 6, have been set aside by J. W. Means for the appearance of the Harmony male quartet.

60TH WEDDING ANNIVERSARY IS OBSERVED

FULLERTON, Oct. 12.—In the midst of loving relatives and friends Mr. and Mrs. G. L. Van Eaton, of 128 East Chapman avenue, celebrated on Saturday their sixtieth wedding anniversary. All day, a stream of visitors called at their residence to extend congratulations and good wishes, and in the evening, a family dinner party was given. Floral remembrances included a bouquet from the Ebell club and one from Mayor H. H. Crooke.

Mr. and Mrs. Van Eaton have resided in this city for the past five years. Previous to moving here, they made several trips west to visit their daughter, Mrs. A. Z. Minton, of Fullerton; their grandson, G. F. Minton, and their four great grandchildren. Their daughter, Mrs. D. E. Dean, makes her home in Shelton, Ia.

At the dinner were Mr. and Mrs. A. Z. Minton, Mr. and Mrs. G. F. Minton and four children. Mrs. Van Eaton's two brothers, J. A. Fridl and W. S. Fridl and their wives, Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Chilton, Mr. and Mrs. A. F. Walker, Mr. and Mrs. W. W. De Land, Mrs. Hanson, Mrs. Alice Ruddock and Mr. and Mrs. Van Eaton.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Van Eaton are very active. He is commander of the local G. A. R. post, and she is a prominent member of the Woman's Relief Corps.

Mr. Van Eaton, who is 82 years old, returned Friday from a trip east to visit his daughter, Mrs. Dean. He made the journey in record time, leaving Fullerton on Monday and arriving at Shelton the following Sunday evening.

Brea News

BREA, Oct. 12.—The teachers of the Brea grammar schools held their annual steak bake last week in the Orange county park. The Brea-Olinda high school faculty joined with the other teachers this year in this jollification. Mrs. W. E. Fanning, Mrs. Barnett, Mrs. Winspear and Mrs. Post were guests of the teachers on this occasion.

The Brea Lions club held its regular weekly meeting Friday noon in the Boy Scouts' club house. The Lions club is boosting the new high school and its work, and had as speaker county superintendent of schools, R. P. Mitchell, of Santa Ana, who spoke regarding high school work.

The Brea Woman's club held its first meeting of the year today in the Chamber of Commerce building. Plans for the year were discussed.

Mrs. Florence Morton entertained the Martha class of the First Baptist church at her home October 8. This class is composed of young married women. They will hold meetings once a month at the home of the different members. Those enjoying the hospitality of Mrs. Morton were: Mrs. King, Mrs. Brison, Mrs. Cook and Mrs. Neal. The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Cook. Mrs. Morton is the class teacher.

"At a meeting of the board of directors of the chamber of commerce last week, E. Forrest Hurst was elected as president. Mr. Hurst has taken a very active part in chamber of commerce work for the past year. The chamber of commerce will hold its regular monthly meeting Monday evening, October 19. A dinner will be served.

Mrs. Joe Smith, Beverley and Louise Smith and Mrs. J. Caroline and son, Jack, were visitors at the Belle Mulholland home in Pomona last week.

The Nazareth church started revival services Sunday. The meeting will last for two weeks. The Rev. C. E. Toney, of Texas, is in charge of the meetings. Mr. Scroggins and Mr. Jones, of Oklahoma, evangelistic singers, will take part in the services, as will the pastor, the Rev. Corlett.

Miss Esther Corlett, who has been visiting with her sister, Mrs. Cornelius Prinson, of Bakersfield, for the past two weeks, has returned to her home.

Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Allen and sons, Rex and Max, are spending a few days with Mrs. Allen's sis-

STUDENT BANK IN FULLERTON GREAT SUCCESS

FULLERTON, Oct. 12.—Not only regular instruction but practical experience as well is being offered students of the money and banking classes at the Fullerton union high school, who have charge of the F. U. S. bank on the campus. Affiliated with one of the downtown banking establishments, the high school institution, which was founded three years ago, has been a decided success from the start.

Although it was organized primarily as a savings bank to encourage thrift among the student, the bank now performs many other functions. While it may not legally receive deposits in its own name, it handles the student body funds for the high school and junior college, and places them on deposit downtown each day. The cafeteria budgets are also taken care of by the force of 14 students.

The bank is open from 8 a. m. to 4 p. m., with student tellers sharing the duties during their free periods. Each has his own cash for daily balancing and accounting. The facilities of the bank are splendid and include a vault, safe, book posting machine, adding machines, calculators and files.

Every student in the commercial department is required to spend a portion of his time in the bank and in office practice work. It has been estimated by L. O. Culp, head of the department, that more than $200,000 was handled in various ways by the department, last year. Full sets of books are kept with monthly statements showing the condition of accounts at all times.

According to Mr. Culp, 225 students have been placed in various banking institutions in Southern California through the recommendation of the high school.

HALLOWE'EN PARTY PLANNED BY CLASS

HUNTINGTON BEACH, Oct. 12.—Members of the boys' Baraca class of the First Methodist Episcopal church will hold a Halloween party at the bungalow of the church, Friday night, October 30, it was announced today.

The boys are planning a gala event. Each member of the class has been requested to bring a pie. Other refreshments will be provided by a special committee.

IMPERSONATOR ON ROTARY PROGRAM

HUNTINGTON BEACH, Oct. 12.—E. C. Parmeter, Los Angeles impersonator, reader and singer, entertained local Rotarians at their regular meeting here Friday noon. Parmeter gave a variety of impersonations, songs and readings.

Rotarians staged a novel program in the form of a contest between the club members. H. T. Dunning won the event, being the first person to write the name and classification of each member of the club. The prize was donated by a local clothing store.

F. L. Slusher was the chairman of the program committee. A number of visiting members and guests were present.

Following the meeting, Parmeter appeared at the high school at a special assembly and presented several numbers.

Cable Car Builder Has Small Estate

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 12.—James Tobin, the builder of San Francisco's first cable car line, the first of its kind in the United States, left an estate of only $1015.

This was revealed when Public Administrator Hynes advertised for heirs. Tobin spent his later years selling newspapers on the streets here. He died September 1 at the age of 76.

Following the building of the Clay street cable line, Tobin engaged in contracting and was successful in that work until 1906, when the great fire wiped out his holdings and ruined his business. He never recouped his losses or his morale.

ter, Mrs. B. Coran, of Perris. W. D. Shaffer is in Chicago on a business trip. He will return in about 10 days.

The Brea male quartet made its first public appearance Thursday night in Brea, calling on various shut-ins and giving each one a short entertainment. The quartet sang at the Placentia Presbyterian church Friday night. Those who compose this quartet are Howard Swoap, Mr. Hilgenfeld, M. C. Fiscoys and the Rev. J. J. Bell.

Ross Burton is making various improvements on his home on South Flower street.

New Traffic Law to Be Enforced

FULLERTON, Oct. 12.—Chief of Police O. W. Wilson today issued a warning to Fullerton merchants who have been violating the recent parking ordinance, which states that in certain parts of the city, automobiles may be parked only two hours at a time. He promised that strict watch will be kept in the future, and violators will be fined.

WATER, LIGHT PATRONS OWE CITY, $3591.10

ANAHEIM, Oct. 12.—Delinquent light and water users of Anaheim are indebted to the city in the sum of $3,591.10, according to a report prepared by the Victor D. Loly auditing company, and presented to the board of trustees.

The report covers the period from May 1, 1923, to October 1, this year, and shows the names of 1,451 light and water customers who have been or are at present in arrears in their payments to the city.

In the electric light department, there is $2,116.60 overdue, and in the water department, a total of $1,474.50, the report stated.

The average monthly loss to the city by reason of these delinquencies has been $121.05 and the yearly average $1,452.60, it is stated.

A deficient bookkeeping system is blamed for the losses. Installation of a modern bookkeeping system in both departments, now under way, is expected to remedy the situation, J. W. Price, city manager, declares.

WOMEN TO PLAY CARDS ON OCT. 23

HUNTINGTON BEACH, Oct. 12.—Plans for the first card party of the winter season are being laid by members of the local Woman's club, according to Mrs. Paul Michener, chairman of the social committee of the organization. The party is to be held October 23.

Mrs. Michener will be in charge of the party and is making arrangements for a number of new features to attract the club members. She will be assisted by Mrs. Ralph Shores, Mrs. Stella Anderson and Mrs. L. S. Frink.

Refreshments will be served. Last year, the card parties were very popular among the club members and their friends.

Five delegates will be elected at the meeting of the Woman's club here tomorrow to attend the Orange county conference of women's clubs, at Orange, October 23.

San Juan Capistrano

SAN JUAN CAPISTRANO, Oct. 12.—The Capistrano Women's club met in Foster's hall Tuesday for its monthly business meeting. A "hard times" party is being planned to raise money to pay for the new furniture which was bought recently. Several committees are at work on the plans.

Mrs. Oscar Guibert is visiting at the home of her mother, Mrs. Blanche Ward, in Santa Ana.

Miss Elva McHenry visited Miss Marjorie Callis at the home of Mrs. Fred Rosenbaum in Santa Ana, Wednesday evening.

The state highway has been completed from the San Juan creek bridge to the San Juan Capistrano mission, and light traffic is allowed to use it, although all trucks are compelled to use the detour.

The senior class has selected its rings and pins. The design is one of the newest shown by the T. V. Allen company. The order will be finished and delivered within three weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Austin are staying at Mr. Austin's studio at the mission for a few days.

The teachers of the local high school attended Teachers' institute in Santa Ana high school Friday evening.

Mrs. Guy Williams and sons, John and Charles, motored to Santa Ana Saturday.

Miss Eva Ernberger, instructor in science and mathematics at the high school, went to her home in Los Angeles for the week-end.

Garnet Holme, producer of the Mission pageant, is staying at the mission as a guest of Father O'Sullivan for a few days. Mr. Holme is to leave soon for Palm Springs, where he is to produce "The Desert Play."

Dr. McNish, who has accepted the pastorate of the local Community Presbyterian church, and Mrs. McNish, have arrived in Capistrano to make their home.

WORK STARTS ON PALISADES CLUB PROJECT

Motion Picture Actress Officiates at Laying of Cornerstone Sunday

BALBOA, Oct. 12.—With the laying of the cornerstone, yesterday, for the $45,000 bath house and boat house of the Balboa Palisades club, the first step in the $350,000 building program of the organization was taken.

W. J. Carmichael, of Fullerton, chairman of the Orange county division of the board of governors of the club, officiated in the formal dedication of the site for the first building. More than 150 people gathered on the bay front to watch the formal dedication ceremony.

Dorothy Mackall, First National Pictures star, christened the cornerstone of the building. She was assisted by Duke Kahanamoku, champion swimmer, and a member of the club.

The new building will be of reinforced concrete. E. M. Wheatland, Whittier contractor, will have charge of the building activities. The bath and boat house will be situated on the beach at the bottom of the cliff, according to Lee Brokaw, Santa Ana membership committee. Included in the building will be a floating dock, wading pools, lockers, showers, a small dry dock and every modern convenience. The first unit is to be two stories in height.

Work will start immediately on the construction. For the past week, compressed air machines have been eating away the surface of the rocks, preparing a place for the foundation. The boat house and clubhouse will cover nearly a quarter of an acre of ground, and with playgrounds, wading pools and other features, will occupy more than three-fourths of an acre of the seven acres included in the club holdings.

According to Brokaw, work will be started about the first of 1926 on the construction of more than 40 cottages which will be built for the accommodation of the members. The houses are to be arranged in a unique and picturesque style. It is also expected that the work on the foundation for the $250,000 clubhouse will be started in the spring. It will be necessary to lay an immense cement foundation for the club, which is to set on the edge of the cliff.

Beach Club To Study Authors, Books Tonight

HUNTINGTON BEACH, Oct. 12.—A meeting of the Woman's Literary club will be held at the home of Mrs. Mabel Hollenbaugh Kime, 1512 Walnut avenue, this evening, at 7:30 o'clock.

Discussion of modern books and their authors will be taken up at the meeting. The organization is open to any person interested in the study of modern fiction, according to Mrs. Kime.

It is expected that a large number of local persons will join the organization and avail themselves of the opportunity to study modern authors.

SENATORS HOPE TO CINCH SERIES TODAY

Southern Branch Frosh Beat J. C. Team, 13-0

GRIZZLY CUBS GET 'BREAKS' MAKE 'EM GOOD

Pasadena Collegians to Be Opponents for Santa Ana Eleven Here Wednesday

BY ALFRED AULT

With the lessons of a defeat before them, the Santa Ana junior college football squad beaten 13 to 0 Saturday by the freshmen eleven of the University of California, Southern Branch, today were being drilled strenuously for the Pasadena league game here Wednesday afternoon.

The yearlings outclassed the locals in the clash—even the sensational Al Claves finding difficulty in getting started against them.

Two quarters was all the time allowed for the game which was a curtain-raiser for the Branch-Pasadena varsity fray. Sometime later this month, Coach Graham Harris, local mentor, expects to arrange a full time match here with the Cubs to get revenge for the drubbing.

Breaks Against S. A.

From the start, the turns of the game were disheartening for Santa Ana. The Branch frosh kicked off. Santa Ana was held and Claves dropped back to punt. He got off a hard kick to one side that gave the Cubs the ball within 30 yards of the Santa Ana goal. After a few driving line bucks, Field, Branch fullback, took the ball across for the first touchdown and Rhodes converted.

The second score came soon afterwards when the yearlings pushed Santa Ana's back to the wall and La Bucherie, quarterback for the winners, swept around left end for the last tally.

In the second period, the Santa Ana gridmen found their pace. The branch team was forced to punt after being held and Claves ran the ball back 30 yards to midfield. Then followed a series of advances by Cook and Claves until a bad pass from center caused them to lose their yardage and forced them to punt.

Take Ball Down Field Again the university frosh were required to punt and a second time the local aggregation started a march down the field that took the ball to the Cub's 20 yard line. Here the Grizzly yearlings stiffened and took the ball on downs just a few plays before the game was called.

Outstanding players for the Santa Ana entourage were Blanchard Beatty, who was at the receiving end of passes; Harry Harkness, who recruited at tackle; Leon "Chapman" Townsend, end; and Elliott Best, tackle.

POLY BEATS ORANGE IN SEASON OPENER

locals ahead, 26 to 6, Orange having previously tallied on Walker's punt.

Captain Dawson scored the last two touchdowns, packing the ball over from the 5-yard line once and racing 17 yards straight through a big hole at center for the other. Walker kicked the last goal.

The work of the Poly line was probably the outstanding feature of the day's triumph. Orange was completely baffled in its attempts to penetrate the local forward line so well did Decker, Reister, Heard, Benson, Millen, Schoettler and McDermott perform.

Decker, the best prep line man in the south last year, knifed his way through the Orange defense time after time to make sensational tackles behind the line of scrimmage.

Reister, a big fellow who moves around with surprising speed, measured half a dozen Orange plays almost before they were begun. George Decker, Heard and Benson were in the thick of every play. The fans watched the work of Millen, Schoettler and McDermott, new men in the line, with a critical eye and the youngsters came up to snuff on every chance. Yes, Poly's line will do.

Backs Show Speed Dawson and his backfield colleagues showed more speed and punch and functioned better than last year's team did at any time during the entire season. Dawson, of course, was a known quantity and the steady and consistent yard-making thrusts that he made at the

POLY CLASS C GRIDDERS AIM FOR PREP LEAGUE GONFALON; DISPLAY CLASS IN PRACTICE

Promise is held this year that the Santa Ana Class C football squad will furnish sharp rivalry for the Coast Preparatory league championship which they lost last year through a fluke.

Coach Walter Scott, new mentor of the lightweights, has a capable bunch of charges that he is putting through stiff paces in preparation for the first league game against Long Beach here Thursday afternoon.

The lightweight game will be the starting clash of the fall league schedule and hopes are entertained that the Santa Ana midgets will begin their season with a clean victory. While Coach Scott is not overconfident he believes that his eleven will be ready to administer the visitors a drubbing.

On the squad are 23 players, many of whom were members of the 110-pounders last year or new men who played on the Santa Ana junior high school teams.

The players were to be pitted against Julia C. Lathrop junior high school today if the weather favored. Some heavy drizzle Tuesday and a light workout will place the team on edge to hunt the Jackrabbits.

An indication of the strength of the Class C squad is shown in victories recorded against Anaheim and Fullerton. Last Thursday Coach Scott's proteges defeated Fullerton, 25 to 6. The week earlier they swamped the Anaheim lightweights by a score that was well up in the fifties.

Of the men on the team Ernest Velarde, right half and quarterback, is a regular "Red" Grange with his open field running, side stepping, and straight arming skill. He is the locals' most dangerous pigskin totter.

Frank Hilligass, regular quarterback and captain; Benjamin Koral, fullback; and Melvin Beatty, left half are the other backfield regulars. Besides, Coach Scott has John Knox, William Thompson and Jack Rimel, all of whom can be worked in as utility backs.

The wings of the squad are especially strong with Carroll Ault, Frank del la Rose, Raymond Dixon, and Leslie McDonald at the positions. Four men are contesting for the left tackle position. These are Wylie Carlyle, William Thompson, Jack Northcross and Barney Lucas. Harlan Watkins has been working in well at right tackle since illness has kept Lloyd Dye out of the last week.

Guard posts are the most hotly contested of any places on the team. Candidates for left guard are Raymond Clerley, Aubrey Dunbar and Solon Beall. Jack Rimel, Oliver Halliday, and James Sherwood seek the other guard positions.

A new shift in players is to be tried by Scott this week in attempting to work George Winters in at center to work with Lowell Hamilton. With all this material at hand, it is believed that the midgets "have the makings" of a championship eleven.

Who will take the places of many of the fading stars of baseball?

Who will finally supplant Ty Cobb as the outstanding player of the game?

To whom will fall the title of home run king after Babe Ruth has ceased to crash them over the fence?

What pitcher will get the hero worship that has been heaped on the great Walter Johnson?

While no individual is greater than the game, still it must be admitted that the colorful athletes of baseball have done much to popularize the national pastime.

It isn't going to be so very long before three of the greatest outfielders in the history of the game, Cobb, Speaker and Ruth, will be no more.

Veterans Are Slowing Up Ty Cobb and Tris Speaker have done their bit over a long period of years and done it well, but they cannot go on forever.

At the bat their eyes seem as good as ever. It is in the field and on the bases they show the ravages of time. Their legs are beginning to falter.

Ruth, while he hasn't given the service of either Cobb or Speaker, is for various reasons perhaps as close, if not closer to the finish of his career as an active player, than either of the others.

Ruth the possessor of an unusual physique for a great athlete, small legs and a big torso, is paying the penalty of slowing up quicker than either of the other two as a result of excess poundage.

Johnson Nearing His End For 18 years Walter Johnson has been a great pitcher. This year he is having excellent success, despite the fact that he figured he was through at the close of last season.

Twenty years as a regular may be the limit for Walter Johnson. Grover Alexander, who occupies a similar position to Johnson in the pitching world from a National league standpoint, is certainly past the peak of his game.

The National league there are no two better outfielders than Max Carey of Pittsburgh and Eddie Roush of Cincinnati. Both are veterans.

Carey has seen 15 years of active service, yet he retains his speed surprisingly well and is still the most feared baserunner in the old circuit. Roush has had 12 years of fast stepping.

Death of Young Stars There isn't Eddie Collins, Greatest second baseman of all time. For 19 years he has been an outstanding star at his position. True, he is slowing up, but there are few better keystone guardians.

GOSSIP of the RING

"You go and bet all the real estate in Florida that it will take Dave Shadé just as long to get another fight with Mickey Walker as it did to get the first one—if he ever does get another one." An intimate friend of Jack Kearns, Walker's manager, said a few days ago.

It took Shadé two years to get into the ring with Walker and required the maximum of official pressure from the New York Boxing commission to defend his welterweight title against the California challenger and it does not require information from such a reliable source to predict that Shadé never will get a return bout.

Walker made a whirlwind finish in that fight and many good judges, such as William Muldoon, veteran boxing commissioner, thought that Shadé won.

Shadé's failure to win the championship was due primarily to the decision of the referee and one of the judges that Walker had won.

Several reliable fans, who were sitting in the front row near Shadé's corner, said they heard Flynn tell Shadé before the bell for the fifteenth round to go out and play safe and take no chances.

"You've got the decision in the bag now," Flynn was reported to have said. "Don't take any chances now."

Shadé played safe and took no chances from all appearances, and Walker came out with a desperate last-minute attack, so furious that it must have blotted out the recollection of the earlier rounds in the minds of the two officials, although one of the judges voted for Shadé.

After the bad showing that Walker made in his fight against Harry Greb and the one-round rally that he made against Shadé, it would seem that he is not the little man-killer that he was reputed to be.

Shade's failure to win the championship was due primarily to the decision of the referee and one of the judges that Walker had won.

Several reliable fans, who were sitting in the front row near Shadé's corner, said they heard Flynn tell Shadé before the bell for the fifteenth round to go out and play safe and take no chances.

After being postponed for one week, the Orange County Harbor league got away to a most auspicious start yesterday afternoon. Laguna Beach, Tustin K. P., Westminster and the Shields Paint company succeeded in winning their first games.

Laguna Beach played horse with a makeshift team representing the Santa Ana Woodmen of the World, taking the heavy end of an 18 to 3 count. Only six of the Santa Ana regulars showed up at Skidmore park for the affair.

Jim Young, Laguna Beach pitcher, and Abe Johnson, who followed him into the box, pitched good ball, allowing but five hits between them.

The Woodmen earned a run in the second inning when Eastman, first up, singled, and came home on Beard's triple after McCue had struck out. Beard was caught at the plate on a fielder's choice. The visitors' other two runs came in the sixth on errors, a wild throw, two stolen bases and an out.

Valente walked in the first inning for Laguna Beach, was sacrificed to second by LeBard, stole third and came in on Jamison's hit. Jamison stole second. Verdugo booted Watkins' grounder and Jamison went to third. Watkins stole second and both came in on Gripp's single.

Laguna added three more in the second when Decker was safe on Kneib's error, stole second and scored on Jim Young's two-bagger. Young came in on Valente's double and Valente scored on Jamison's single.

The home team added four in the fourth. Four hits, a hit batsman, three errors and an out netted six runs for Laguna Beach in the fifth. One tally was added in the seventh. Watkins driving in Jamison. In bunch of ideas out of books that came in, Jamison went to second on a passed ball and came home on LeBard's double.

Now that Santa Ana high school's football team has made such an impressive beginning we don't feel much like throwing cold water on the ardor of the youngsters who already are bleating about a championship.

Undenably, "Chuck" Winterburn's aggregation looked and acted like a football team out at Poly field Saturday. Yet it must be remembered that Santa Ana wasn't pitted against the same Orange eleven that whipped ours to a frazzle last fall. It was a new crop of kids, all sophomores just out of grammar school, which Poly defeated so decisively and overwhelmingly. If Santa Ana "takes" Long Beach then there will be cause for jubilation—but let's don't get too cocky just yet.

Overconfidence has whipped more than one champion. No one knows that better than Charlie Winterburn and no one knows better than he that the hardest battle in the world to coach is a football team composed largely of veterans.

The boy who has made the team during his sophomore and junior years is quite blasé when he becomes a senior. He can't be scared by telling him how strong the other fellow is, and seldom can he be enthused. Anything the coach tells him is old stuff. And it is not uncommon for a blase senior to have the exultant kicked out of him by an enthusiastic sophomore, to whom all the world looks new and who thinks he has to battle to get a place in the athletic sun.

The Poly boys looked good Saturday but not so good that they can get fat-headed about it. If they do they will get some unpleasant surprises.

Appropos this subject, Knute Rockne tells a story about one of his Notre Dame teams that had so much success that the boys thought they were unbeatable. He called that bunch his "clipping team" because the boys saved all the newspaper clippings telling how good they were.

In a tough game one of his tackles was being badly outplayed and between halves he said to Rockne: "I know I am a better man than that other fellow."

"Sure you are," Rockne said. "Take your scrapbook out there and prove it to him."

Winterburn also must impress it upon his team that because it won a game that doesn't mean the boys can break training. That's worse than overconfidence.

Training rules that are generally followed in the handling of young American athletes are not just a bunch of ideas out of books that have been put together for the purpose of making training as obnoxious as possible. They are the result of years of study and practice and when a competent trainer tells you to watch your diet he is not trying to make you suffer. You can cheat, of course, but you are only cheating yourself.

Once more the course of events has paused to deliver a healthy swat at those who declare baseball is slowly but surely abdicating as our national game.

More than 60,000 youngsters crowded a park in New York to see two high school teams play. At the same time, the Playground and Recreation Association of America announces that there are 1171 baseball leagues in existence in 329 cities.

Losing popularity? Doesn't sound like it, does it?

Somewhere today, on some weedy lot is a freckled face kid with a ragged glove who 20 years from now will be famous all over the country as a baseball player. Or, rather, there are a dozen like him.

Baseball won't die. Its too good a game.

JOHNSON AGAIN BAFFLES BUGS; HURLS SHUTOUT

Washington Needs Only One More Victory for Title; Coveleskie Sent to Hill

By HENRY L. FARRELL (United Press Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, Oct. 12.—Within one game of baseball's greatest honor and its richest prize, the Washington Senators were anxious to end the 1925 world's series here today in the fifth game against Pittsburgh.

Three victories in the first four games are recorded for the Senators against the National league champions—three victories that mean more than a mathematical advantage. The 1924 champions now need only one game to win the championship and they have more than a good chance to take the deciding game today.

The Senators were almost prohibitive favorites to win the series and the odds were long that they would win today behind Stanley Coveleskie, who failed to win the second game of the series.

The brilliant support that was given Walter Johnson in the few tight places he worked into during yesterday's game made the Washington fans believe that almost any pitcher could win one more game with such spirited defense.

Senators Field Well.

Johnson was found for only six hits, but each of them got him into a hole and it was only the superb fielding of "Bucky" Harris, his manager, and several nice catches in the outfield, that enabled him to register a shutout and win his second game of the series. He pitched the last five innings with a severe "charley horse," which he pulled trying to stretch a hit in the fourth inning.

The Pirates had several fine chances to score but they have had such little energy with men on bases during the whole series that they were unable to make anything out of their opportunities.

It was pointed out before the series started that the Senators had a better defense and had an attack that by its timeliness might be more effective than the imposing array of .300 averages in the Pittsburgh batting order. It has turned out so far to be that way.

Although Washington considers it a cinch that the Senators will win again, there was no waning of interest in today's game and there was even more baseball heard on the streets and in the hotels. The most interesting topic seemed to involve the question of what the matter was with the Pirates?

The poor showing of the National league players might be explained if they were crippled at a vital corner like the Senators are, or if they were getting poor pitching. But their stupid baseball and their rather curled up spirit cannot be explained.

Coveleskie is sure to pitch today and if he does not win his game, Alec Ferguson will be started tomorrow.

"Firpo" Marberry and Tom Zachary will be used for relief duty. Bill McKechnie, manager of the Pirates, said he planned on using Lee Meadows today and Aldridge tomorrow. He seemed certain that the teams are going back to Pittsburgh tonight for the sixth and seventh games of the series.

Betting Odds At 7-1 As Senators Near New Title

NEW YORK, Oct. 12.—The Senators are favored to take the world's series at odds as high as 7 to 1. It was reported in some quarters today. Even at this quotation Pittsburgh money is scarce.

Today's game seems to be about an even money proposition.

One woman was killed and 50 persons were hurt when two sections of the Dixie flyer, crack train of the Nashville, Chattanooga and St. Louis railroad, were wrecked near Chattanooga. The photo above shows the engine and baggage car in a field more than 50 feet from the track.

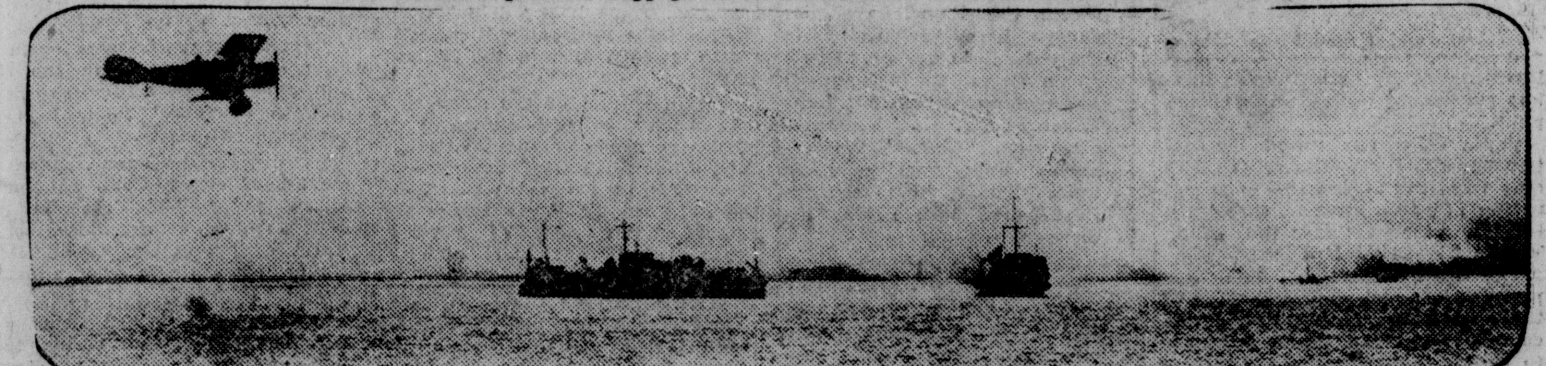

Here is a scene at Fairmont, W. Va., where John J. Lewis and 50 other officials of the United Mine Workers are attempting to unionize a coal field. The non-union miners are shown leaving the mine, while a deputy sheriff stands guard over a long line of striking union miners. Forty-one injunctions prohibiting picketing have been served on the union leaders.

This picture testifies to the introduction in America of the "Oxford bags," and also to the truth of the proposition that musicians, as a class, are just the swiftest dressers! The young men in the picture, reading from left to right, constitute a jazz orchestra.

This striking action photograph was taken while the Spanish were landing troops at the Bay of Alhucemas, in North Africa. Spanish battleships are bombarding the Rif's shore batteries and receiving a hot fire in return. The airplane is spotting enemy positions for Spanish gunners.

on cloudy teeth

Modern science, by perfecting a new way of combating the stubborn film that covers teeth and imperils healthy gums, now opens the road to whiter teeth, safely.

That cloudy teeth, yellowish, discolored teeth can be made whiter and toneless gums firmed is now an accepted fact. Foremost dentists of the world are widely urging this new method. You can have clean, pretty teeth and firm gums if you will start today.

This is accomplished by combating a viscous film that covers teeth. A stubborn, hard to remove film that old type dentifrices do not fight successfully.

Run your tongue across your teeth and you can feel this film. Under it are the clear, attractive teeth you envy in others. Combat it, and your teeth become many shades whiter—more glistening. This offers you a 10-day test free. Mail the coupon.

The enemy of teeth and gums. Film is the great enemy of teeth and gums; a chief cause, according to world's dental authorities, of most tooth and gum troubles. It clings to teeth, gets into crevices and stays. Germs by the millions breed in it. They, with tartar, are the common cause of pyorrhea. It holds food in contact with teeth, inviting the acid that causes decay.

You can't have prettier, whiter teeth; you can't have firm pretty gums unless you combat that film.

Ask your druggist or mail the coupon for Pepsodent. Don't expect the same results from old time dentifrices. Begin beautifying your teeth today.

OUTWARD FLOW OF FOREIGNERS BECOMES GREAT

WASHINGTON, Oct. 12.—While 294,314 aliens were added to the population of the United States during the last fiscal year, 92,723 already in the country emigrated to their homes. So said a report issued by the labor department. The backward flow was so marked as to several nationalities formerly important in the immigration totals, that there was a net loss of their number in the United States.

A total of 27,151 Italians returned to their native land, while but 6,203 were admitted as immigrants. Greece furnished 826 immigrants, took back 6,574, and Portugal, with 619 immigrants, had 3600 returning.

Germany was the source of the greatest number of European immigrants, with approximately 46,068, though Great Britain produced about 28,000 and the Irish Free state 25,440.

There was a sharp drop in the totals of other countries, Sweden, with 831 and Norway, with 6975, coming next.

Canada, whose citizens are exempted from the quota law restrictions, had 109,895 immigrants to the United States, and Mexico, 32,946. Other countries to which more aliens returned than were admitted to this country, were China, with 3412 and 1937, respectively, and Australia with 344 and 273.

Yorba Linda

YORBA LINDA, Oct. 12.—Mrs. J. A. Small was hostess to the Thursday afternoon Bridge club at her home last week. As is the custom of the club, a 1 o'clock, two-course luncheon was served, after which a pleasant afternoon was spent playing bridge. High score was made by Mrs. Nettie Blattner with Mrs. Austin Marshburn second. The consolation prize was won by Miss McClatchie. Other club members present included Mrs. Frank Rospaw, Miss Nearsha Vernon, Mrs. Albert Wilson, Mrs. A. W. Miller, Mrs. E. E. Knight, Mrs. A. B. McDavid, Mrs. G. C. Kinsman and Mrs. C. H. Eichler.

Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Knight, Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Smith and Mr. and Mrs. Bassett spent Wednesday evening at Huntington Beach.

Friends here are extending congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. J. Laurence Baker, who were married at Riverside on Thursday morning. The bride was Miss Marcelle Meekes, of Anaheim, a bookkeeper for the Anaheim Telephone company. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. W. Baker and is employed at the Liberty garage. They will make their home for the present on the Baker ranch east of town.

The local chamber of commerce held an interesting meeting in the Woman's clubhouse on Wednesday evening. Mrs. A. C. Pickering was in charge of the committee from the Woman's club which served a 6:30 o'clock dinner to the 50 people present. The regular business session followed, after which the program was enjoyed. Murray Walker rendered piano solos and William Schumacher and A. L. Oiler, of Santa Ana, were speakers for the evening.

W. A. Kelly went to Oceanside Thursday to transact business. Mr. and Mrs. P. S. Amstutz spent Thursday in Los Angeles shopping.

NORTH AFRICAN ISLAND FABLED HOME OF LOTUS

WASHINGTON, Oct. 12.—Jerba, the north African island where an ancient Greek treasure galley was discovered recently, is not listed as a stopping place on Mediterranean cruises, although it possesses a background of rich historic and romantic interest. Tradition places on the little Tunisian island, almost midway between Gibraltar and Suez, the home of the lotus-eaters, of whom Homer tells in one of his sea tales.

"The present day natives, mostly Berbers of the Kharifite sect, would probably tell you they have never heard of the fabled sweet forgetfulness that was said to come to the Lotophagi, as the eaters of the lotus plant were called," says a bulletin from headquarters of the National Geographic society. "There is nothing today about their busy little palm-shaded towns, or harbors full of fishing boats, that lends the atmosphere of a land of always after dinner." Secure in their insularity against the attacks of nomadic Arabs, the Jerba islanders tend their fruit groves and vegetable gardens, vying also in industry with their kinsmen, the Mozabites, as traders to all the seaports of the Orient.

Sponge and Polypus Fisheries
"The sponge, polypus and other fisheries, and the oyster beds in the canal d'Adjim, the ship channel through the narrow sweep of water that separates Jerba from the mainland, are productive. Every morning the queer looking craft of the Arab sponge fishermen put out from the long wharves with flags flying, for the great stretches of shallow water that extend in all directions from the island. Large steamers must be met by native sailing craft and row boats, as it is impossible for most of them to approach within two or three miles of the shore.

"Jerba has been made, through the efforts of its inhabitants, one of the most fertile and prosperous spots along a great stretch of sun-baked Mediterranean coast line. More than a million date-palms wave their fringers over the white-roofed towns and villages of this island oasis, which is approximately twice as large as Malta, its British neighbor 250 miles to the north-east. In addition there are extensive groves of olive, orange, lemon and peach trees.

"To the stranger coming from the bleak and parched Tunisian mainland this fertility seems a miracle. There are no rivers on Jerba, no streams worthy of the name even, and rainfall is as scant and infrequent as on the mainland. The answer to the riddle is underground water, obtained through artesian wells in the same manner that the natives of the Yucatan peninsula in Mexico secure a constant supply of fresh, cool water.

Roofs Like Sausers.

"Hunt-Suk, the capital and principal city, lies on the sandy north coast about half a mile from the sea and five miles from the anchorage of the steamers. Its countless little buildings of one or two stories all have domes and from the roof tops the city looks like an array of inverted saucers with the graceful minarets of the mosques breaking the skyline like slender lighthouses. Public gardens and a number of wide curving streets show the beneficent influence of the French. Down by the sea is the spot where a great mound of Christian bones, called 'The Skull Fort,' stood for centuries. The bones were those of several thousand Spaniards who were massacred by the pirate Dragut in 1560. They were collected and buried in the Christian cemetery nearby in 1843.

"All over the island are Roman ruins, decayed causeways, baths, temples—the subsoil of all the Mediterranean world buried from the mausoleum of Borgho nothing remains intact of this one time important Roman colony, the birthplace of two Roman emperors, Vibius Gallus and Volusenus.

"Hara-Serira, a village of 1500 inhabitants five miles south of the capital, is a resort of Jewish pilgrims from southern Tunisia and Tripolitania. The Gheriba or synagogue, is built on the spot where, according to tradition, one of the tables of the law of Moses was found. It is much revered also by Catholics and Moslems. Not far away, at Gallala, is an unexploited Eden for photographers. This is the center of pottery-manufacturing, where all day long the statuesque native women, twentieth century Rebecas, carry graceful white water-jugs to the stone-rimmed wells.

Lotus Nearly Extinct.

"Of the lotus, or jujubier, as the French call it, there are few remnants. There has been much disagreement as to the identification of the Homeric lotus. Lotus is a popular name applied to several plants, and whether the one that the Greek poet had in mind was a tree, a bush, a flower, or the seed of any of them, has not been determined.

Garden Grove

GARDEN GROVE, Oct. 12.—The Women's Missionary society of the Baptist church held an all day meeting at the home of Mrs. Ernest Arrowsmith, Thursday.

The morning was devoted to sewing, after which a pot-luck dinner was served. In the afternoon, the members held their regular business session and an interesting program on Africa was given. Dr. Chas. Hurlburt, general missionary of Inland Africa missions, gave a very stirring address on the work. Mrs. C. Z. Wasson sang a solo, "I Will Give You Rest," and instrumental selections were rendered by Dorothy Allen, Dorothy Knapp and Velma King.

A miscellaneous shower was given in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Beverly D. Heard, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Ward, last week.

The home was prettily decorated in pink and white, the color scheme also being carried out in the refreshments of ice cream and cake. Following appropriate games and contests the couple was presented with many pretty and useful gifts. About 60 relatives and friends from Los Angeles, Santa Ana and Garden Grove were present. Mr. and Mrs. Heard will make their home in Los Angeles.

The Delphian society held its first meeting of the season at the home of Mrs. Agnes Stanley, Tuesday afternoon. The society is taking up the study of art this year, and the class is very enthusiastic. The next meeting will be held with Mrs. A. D. Hoeschei on November 4.

Mrs. F. A. Monroe went to Pasadena last week to attend the Home Missionary convention at Pasadena.

Thomas E. Pickering, secretary of the Placentia Chamber of Commerce, was a Garden Grove visitor last week.

Mrs. J. M. Woodworth is spending a couple of days at the mission-ary convention in Pasadena, and is also visiting at the home of her sister, Mrs. Townsend, who lives in Pasadena.

Miss Ruth Budd, of Detroit, was a guest of her friend, Miss Florence Pearson, the past week.

Mrs. Irvine German and son, Irvine Jr., spent a couple of days with the former's sister, Mrs. Noel Hinson, in Los Angeles, the past week.

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Bragg and daughter, Miss Hazel, of Whittier, visited at the home of Mr. Bragg's brother, O. O. Bragg, Wednesday.

Mrs. Frank Winters, who has been ill the past two weeks, is better and Thursday left for a week's stay at Elsinore.

A son was born to Mr. and Mrs. Riley Archer last week.

Mr. and Mrs. R. Elliott were visitors at Laguna Beach, Wednesday.

John Smith, of Perris, was a business caller in Garden Grove last week.

Mrs. F. B. Winters and son, Donald, of Los Angeles, are visiting with Mrs. Winters' parents, Mr. and Mrs. P. M. German.

Placentia News

PLACENTIA, Oct. 12.—A. C. Bradford is much improved in health by his stay at La Canada, and was in Placentia for a few days last week, looking after business interests.

Mr. and Mrs. P. L. Bradford have rented their beach home and taken a house for the winter in Altadena. Mr. Bradford will take a post-graduate A course at polytechnic school this year.

Miss Reynolds, of Long Beach, has opened a beauty parlor in Ride-out building.

Mr. and Mrs. Isaac Mayfield are home from a six weeks' trip to Savoy, Kentucky, where they visited Mr. Mayfield's relatives, Mr. and Mrs. John Mayfield, and two children came home with the local people and plan to make their home in Southern California.

Mrs. Schuyler Ingham was hostess to the Dorcas society of the Calvary church, on Thursday. The women gathered at 10 o'clock and spent the day sewing on Christmas gifts for the poor. At noon, a delicious covered dish luncheon was enjoyed. Twenty-five women were present. The next meeting will be on October 22 at the home of Mrs. Fred Wasson.

The Rev. Charles E. Fuller, pastor of the Calvary church, has started a series of fine popular sermons on "The Return of Christ."

Mr. and Mrs. William Bradford are returning to their home after spending the summer months at Newport Beach.

L. T. Alldridge, of the Placentia Orange Growers' Packing house, and Mrs. Alldridge have returned from a two weeks' vacation spent in San Francisco and Escondido.

Miss Kringle, of Santa Ana, who succeeds Miss Durgan as county health nurse, was in town last week. Miss Kringle would like to get in touch with all mothers of children of pre-school age. All who are interested in child welfare are asked to call Mrs. Oscar Carlson and leave their names. Miss Kringle will make personal calls.

OUR NATIVE DAUGHTERS

The organization of Santa Ana parlor, Native Daughters of the Golden West, is a matter of more than usual interest and importance in fraternal circles. Devoted to the maintenance of the ideals that made California a vigorous, virile state and that carried it through the hardships and uncertainties of pioneer days, this organization has a unique opportunity for service.

Good citizenship is one of its principal ends and aims. In fact, good citizenship may be designated as its real purpose for existence, for its activities in a historical way, in gathering data and in preserving landmarks, lead inevitably toward the development of good citizenship. One cannot be interested in the development of this state without gaining a better understanding of the problems of today.

The Native Daughters have established a strong parlor in Santa Ana. Every encouragement to the strengthening of this organization should be offered. The first task before the parlor, of course, is that of increasing its membership, for in numbers is strength. However, the personnel of the parlor as it stands today is a guarantee of its permanency.

THE BREAD TRUST

The latest merger announced, in this new period of consolidations, is what in the economic discussions of ante-bellum days would have been called a "bread trust." Three baking companies, each of them big in itself, and together operating 157 plants in all sections of the United States, have combined under the name of the General Baking corporation.

The capital involved is said to be $400,000,000. The "capital structure" will consist of 10,000,000 shares of stock. The estimated sales will be no less than $200,000,000 a year.

The good, old-fashioned art of baking bread, cake and pie in the kitchen oven is certainly growing up! Is it a good thing or a bad thing? Generally speaking, industrial organization on a bigger scale is good. That way lies progress. It should mean added economy and efficiency. But it always depends.

Financially, there is always danger of either stockholders or consumers losing when an important commodity comes under the control of a new "trust." There are governmental agencies charged with the duty of keeping an eye out for monopoly and extortion.

In this case there is also a hygienic question. It will be good for the national health if this big, powerful organization makes a special effort to give the public food that is wholesome instead of food that merely pleases the eye and palate. Professional bakers know how to bake; but they do not always use such flour and other materials as physicians would recommend.

If this combination fails, however, either economically or dietetically, the ultimate cook and baker can always fall back upon her kitchen oven, and here in Santa Ana we have first class bakeries, in no way associated with the trust, turning out a dependable product for local use.

COLUMBUS DAY AS A HOLIDAY

Columbus Day is observed in 33 states as a legal holiday.

The Columbian Exposition in Chicago in 1893 revived interest in Columbus, especially because of the arrival from Europe of the models of the three caravels in which the navigator and his band had set out on the voyage which ended with the discovery of America.

Following this revival of interest came the movement to establish October 12, the day on which in 1492 Columbus landed on the island which he named San Salvador, as a legal holiday.

Colorado was the first state to accept it as a holiday. This action was followed by other states. In 1909 the day was made a legal holiday in New York after six years of political campaigning.

The Knights of Columbus in all parts of the country have always been active in promoting legislation for the celebration of Columbus Day and have taken part in the ceremonies in all cities where the day is observed.

In California, which is one of the thirty-three states, business houses, other than banks and title companies, do not observe the day.

A PEACE OF EQUALS

Once more the Allies and Germans are met to try to find "some permanent basis for peace." In the principle of this quest Americans are keenly concerned. Practically, they have lost interest in the matter, because they have seen so much futile peace-making since the war. It is a very optimistic American who will expect anything more than talk from the Conference of Locarno.

Yet something may come of it. For Germany, for the first time, participates on an equal footing with the Allies. It is an apparently sincere effort on both sides to reach a voluntary peace instead of the dictated peace that has prevailed so far. That shows a big moral advance.

Europe at last begins to see that only a voluntary peace can last—that there can be no assured peace except a self-respecting peace of equals. Germany seems ready to give honest guarantees of security if her recent enemies will do likewise.

The outcome may be a pact consonant with the purposes of the League of Nations, with the admittance of Germany into the League as an equal of the other big powers. That would pave the way for making the League a really effective organization to keep the peace in Europe.

THE ONE-WAY DRIVERS

The automobile driver, remarks a citizen interested in traffic problems, is a creature of habit. He drives down town in the morning by a certain route, and drives home in the evening by the same route. It doesn't seem to occur to him that there are other streets he can use.

The streets he drives through may be good ones. The route may be short. And nearly everybody else may agree with him. That makes the trouble. The more unanimity, the more traffic jam.

There may be other streets just as good, other ways just as short, which are not crowded with traffic and therefore make quicker and pleasanter driving. The observant driver learns that distance, anyway, is of little importance, if paving is good and the way is clear.

It's worth changing routes, too, merely for the sake of seeing something different.

Quite a moral homily might be made of this. Every phase of human life has its one-way drivers.

Who Should Go to State College?

The University of California asks this question: "Who Should Go to College?" In an honest effort to secure an expression of public sentiment, the university is offering prizes in an essay contest to be conducted among seniors in high schools of the state.

Perhaps the question should be altered and made to read "Who Should Go to a State College?"—meaning an institution supported by the taxpayers of the state.

The duty of the University of California is somewhat different than that of Stanford university, for instance, or any other privately endowed and operated institution. The University of California is a great public university operated by funds appropriated by the legislature of the state and housed in buildings largely provided by state bond issues.

Undoubtedly the state university would like to fix more strict rules as to who should be admitted. It would like to bar those who have no fixed idea of where they are going or what it is all about, but it is doubtful that a public institution has the right to determine that a particular student is a mere idler and goes to college because "it is done." Perhaps that is the only motive, but if he succeeds in maintaining the required scholarship rating, it will be difficult for university officials to sit in judgment and determine the institution will not bother with him. Even if a youth has no motive in attending the university the good that he will receive will later figure in his life.

The state university has the right to fix scholarship and citizenship requirements and to dismiss those who fail to maintain that standard, but to provide a court of judgment to determine the motive or lack of attendance at a state college is proceeding on doubtful ground. The University of California doubtless already knows that it does not have the rights of private institutions, and it should not have those rights.

Careless of Human Life

The United States is the most careless nation on the face of the earth. Careless—what with? Why, with human life, the most precious of all assets! Why, automobiles alone kill two persons every hour, in this country! The United States is profligate with the lives of its people.

The tragic toll among children is heart-rending. Accidents carried to premature graves 21,000 boys and girls in the United States within the last year, and it is estimated that fully 500,000 children were injured. Why should the death rate from accidents in the United States be more than twice the rate in England? Surely there is inexcusable profligacy with human life in this land. Life is held in too light esteem by too many.

Of the thousands of accidental deaths, a large percentage are preventable. Ways and means to prevent these untimely, violent deaths should engage the attention of the people. Intensive campaigns to impress carelessness are always in order. It is well to teach carelessness in traffic to children. It is well, also, for adults to exemplify carelessness in traffic before children. Set the little ones the good example of carefulness out where the rush of the busy street menaces all who dash in recklessly.

CARE AND CLEANLINESS NEEDED

Regulations covering the canning and packing industries are necessary and also regulations covering milk, meat, fish, eggs and vegetables. Decomposed food is a real source of danger.

It contains poisons produced by rotting or decay. Regulations safeguarding the buying public against prepared foods, in which decomposed material is present, have been adopted by nearly all the states.

The shipment of such foods from one state to another is now prohibited by federal law. Many cities also have local regulations which permit the officials to seize and destroy any food unsuitable for consumption.

The use of preservatives in canned or prepared food has been the subject of many careful experiments. An attempt has been made to discover any possible injury which might result from the use of such a preservative, for instance, as benzoate of soda.

Some preservatives unquestionably are used in such small amounts as to have no material effect upon the health. The amount of benzoate of soda, for example, which will preserve certain articles of food, is harmless, but the objection to these practically harmless preservatives is not that the preservatives in themselves are harmful but whether their use makes it possible for the unscrupulous manufacturers to mix partly decomposed matter into the manufactured product.

If preservatives are not used the manufacturer is compelled to use only clean, fresh material. At the present time the federal laws protect the public to this extent, that they require the manufacturer to state on the outside of the package the amount, if any, of preservative that is present.

There is another class of dangers that makes food protection necessary. These are the dangers of infection by disease germs.

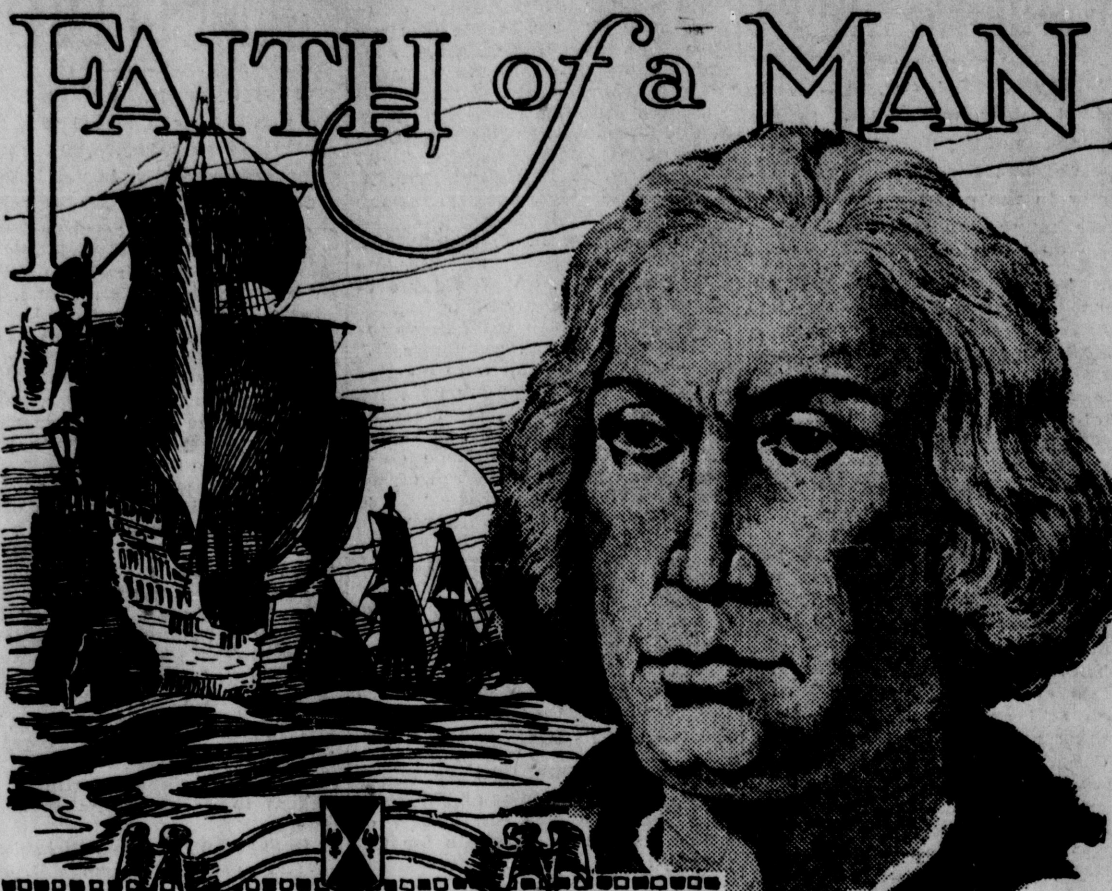

This is generally a local problem, since it has to do with the food that is brought to the consumer day by day. Many cities have adopted regulations requiring dealers to protect their wares against exposure to dust, insects or other sources of infection. They have regulations covering the refrigeration of meats and fresh fish. Elaborate regulations have been adopted covering the milk supply.

Cleanliness and hygiene begin at home. If you buy clean food in the market you must exercise some supervision over the preparation of that food or you cannot be assured that clean food from the market will reach your table clean.

Servants do not always have a clear conception of cleanliness in the matter of food handling.

When the preparation of food is left entirely in the hands of those who have not had the advantage of education, can you expect them to appreciate the dangers of insanitary methods of food handling or understand the importance of cleanliness in the kitchen?

Those who do not know of the existence of bacteria may not be expected to take adequate precautions against the spread of disease by means of bacteria. Food utensils, especially ice boxes, need frequent scouring, frequent cleaning and frequent exposure to the sun.

citizens in the shape of necessarily higher insurance rates, there will be a more general demand for fines and penalties to be charged against such property owners who are responsible for loss by fires.

In the present case the defendants were notified to clean up their property. All notices were ignored and accumulations of trash were permitted to exist with resulting fire losses to adjoining property. This case deserves national attention and should form the basis for legislation relating to personal liability for negligence in maintaining fire hazards.

Annual Fire Prevention Week, unusual interest attaches to the movement to attach personal liability for carelessness. An action for damages arising from fire on account of the alleged gross carelessness of another is to be given its first test in the courts of Georgia as a result of the filing of one of the few suits of its kind. The petition, instituted by the Macon Cabinet Works against the Southern Box and Basket company for damages of $17,000, is of particular interest for the reason that insurance companies and officials and citizens of Macon are working in conjunction to reduce the normal burning ratio of Macon.

Mass meetings of civic bodies and citizens have been held to correct conditions that will result in increasing insurance rates if not abated, and the city courts are invoking fire hazard laws and assessing heavy fines for their violation.

When the public once awakens to the fact that property owners, who carelessly or wilfully permit fire hazards to exist on their premises, cause thousands of dollars of useless expense to other

THE LILACS

O heart that was so weary of the winter.
O heart that grew so heavy for the spring.
Now that its radiant greenness clothes and hides the brown hills leanness.
What peace to you, what comfort does it bring?
The west wind's is a voice of tender musing:
"Is sorrow not the same, though winter's done?"
Yet here are lilacs.
The purple lilacs.
The royal lilacs lifted to the sun.

For every bitter grief of winter's making.
For every loss the spirit can sustain,
There is a gentle healing in that haunting perfume stealing
Across the weary, weary ways of pain.
Then deep within, O heart of grieving, keep it,
The unction of a peace yet hardly won—
The breath of lilacs,
Of tender lilacs,
Of brave, sweet lilacs whitening in the sun.

Little Benny's
Note Book

Sunday afternoon I went in the living room and ma was looking at the pictures of the ladies fashions in the paper and shaking her head on account of properly thinking it would be hard for her to make herself look like that on account of her keeping on getting stouter insted of thinner, and she sed, Benny, are you sticking around the house on a bewtiful day like this, will you tell me that?

Pop dont want me to go out, I sed.

Why I never herd of such a thing, Wy shouldnt he want you to go out on such a lovely day wen you could be taking in oxygen to make you grow so you wont be a little midgit all your life for land sake?

Because he cut his face wile he was shaving it, I sed.

Well wy should he keep you in the house on that account? ma sed.

I gess thats the way it made him feel, I sed, and ma sed, I never herd of such a thing, Im going to speak to him about it.

Wats a use of doing that, ma Id jest as leef stay in enyways, and besides, enyways, maybe I had something to do with making him cut himself, I sed.

Wat do you mean by maybe, dont you know for sure? ma sed, and I sed, Well, I wouldnt be sezprized, because I was giving a imitation of a frog jumping and I banged into the back of pops kneez and jest then he cut himself.

Well for pity sakes, ma sed.

Wich jest then pop came in saying, Wares that boy Benny, I jest thawt of a few things to tell him that I forgot to mention a little wile ago.

Heer he is, I mean for goodniss sakes, he was jest in the room a second ago, ma sed.

Wich I still was, being under the sofer.

Although only two school trustees from outside districts attended their open meeting, members of the Santa Ana board of education still intends to go through with its plan for a large union polytechnic high school.

Although Orange county yesterday voted in favor of woman's suffrage, early reports indicated that the measure was defeated through the state at large.

Santa Ana high school's football team will play the Los Angeles Military academy at Lincoln park next Saturday.

Motocycle Officer Roy Davenport arrested three motorists and one motocyclist for speeding on North Main street.

The senior and intermediate Christian Endeavor societies of the First Baptist church held a social in honor of the Rev. Otto S. Russell, their new pastor.

One Year Ago Today

The prince of Wales visited Duluth.

German dirigible ZR-3 left Friedrichshafen bound for United States.

The model's nineteen-seventeen; it's lines are out of style. But, anyway, it's MY machine, and I have cause to smile. I bought it in the good old days, when auto's were the thing. And now I'm standin' glad to praise, 'cause I've had my fling.

There was the time when folks would stare, when I went chuggin' by. My friends all thought that I was there. I used to catch their eye. Of course a lot of time has passed. My auto's head is bowed. Right now it's not so highly classed, and people laugh out loud.

I hop right out and crank the bus, and then the engine flies. I never have to stop and cuss like lots of other guys. Of course I need not use a horn. My engine knocks so strong, that people know, from night to morn, I'm comin' right along.

Go on, you folks, who have new cars, and split your sides with laughter. Why I don't mind your "har, har, hars" that, where I go, trail after. I know my car's a circus clown and rouses lots of pity. But when your cars are broken down—I'll still be ridin' pretty.

Swift Change Made

San Bernardino Sun

It would seem that when the timid voice of such an insignificant county as San Bernardino is raised in protest and horror at the parole of a felon who betrayed his public trust, there is no need or even need for heed under the dome of the capitol at Sacramento.

Writing last February on the subject of the Alford parole, Governor Richardson said: "I have no power nor desire to review them (the prison directors) on matters of judgment."

And so the Alford parole protest was in vain. A trusted public official stole $30,000 or so, served 18 months in prison, and went free.

But now the great and populous county of Los Angeles—the county that may defeat or elect a governor in 1926—raises its mighty voice in protest at the parole of "Big Hutch" a swindler and certain there is an answer. How the Governor snaps into action! He quotes a law:

"The Governor shall have power to cancel and revoke the parole of any prisoner and his written authority shall likewise be sufficient to authorize any of the officers named therein to retake and return said prisoner to the State prison."

And the Governor adds:

"... if the district attorney, sheriff, or a superior judge of Los Angeles County requests it, I will review the Hutchings case."

There was no offer from the Governor to take action in the Alford case. He did the reverse. He said he could not take action because he had no authority to do so. These were his words last February:

"The Governor of California has nothing whatever to do with parole and has no authority under the law in that particular. The Governor has authority to issue pardons and that responsibility rests on his shoulders.

"The parole board has been left absolutely free as the constitution requires for the exercise of its own judgment."

"I have no power nor desire to review them on matters of judgment."

Only seven months have passed. No new laws on the subject have been adopted, and now the Governor has authority to review a parole that has outraged the dignity of Los Angeles county.

And we wonder what the Governor would tell the officials of Ontario, or the retired grand jury of the district attorney, or D. D. McDonald of Ontario, or others who protested last February, if they would now write the Governor and call his attention to the law he quotes in the case of "Big Hutch" and ask that the parole of Alford be reviewed.

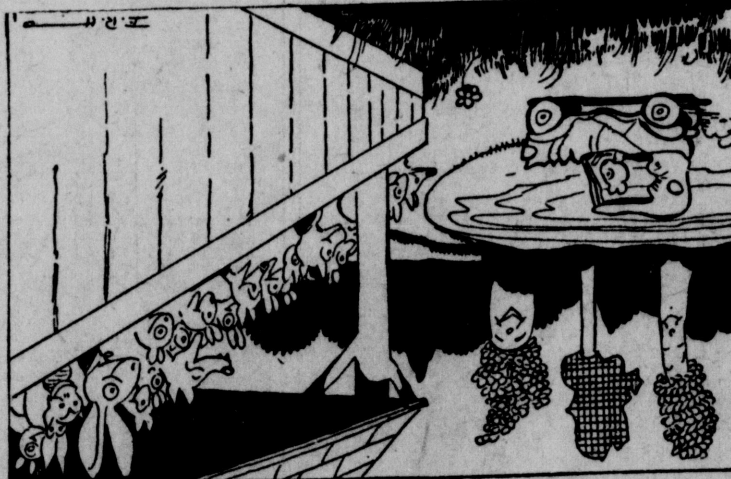

This parole business is finally getting interesting.

OF THE TWINS

NO. 19—THE RACE AROUND THE POND

Everybody on the grand stand at the race track simply roared when they saw Markie Muskrat driving his funny little car with a big "23" on the back.

"That was his number in the race, the '23' was."

But Markie didn't care whether they laughed or not, at his queer, funny little car. Not he! He was so pleased to be in the race at all with any kind of a car, that he never let on he heard all the remarks about him.

Daddy Cracknuts was so astonished when he saw Markie's car that he forgot to hold on to the wheel for a minute, and his own car nearly had a collision with the fence.

And Mister Woodchuck and Prickles Porcupine and Ringtail Coon haw-hawed right out loud the minute Markie came in sight.

"Oh, just looker there!" they cried.

Mister Bunny called over to Mrs. Bunny, "I wonder if they are going to have a booby prize." A booby prize, you see, is something they give to the person who comes in last—to make him feel better, I suppose.

Now it wasn't kind of them all to laugh, but if you had been there I really think you could not have helped laughing either.

For Markie's car was one he had made himself out of old scraps he had found in the junk heap out side of the repair shop, and it didn't look any more like an automobile than a wheelbarrow looks like an aeroplane. But it had four wheels, and something made them go 'round—so Markie was happy."

All the cars got into line to start. The track was around the pond. Six times around was the distance they were to go. The first car to reach the post in front of the grand stand was the winner.

"All ready!" called the starter through a big horn.

All the racers began to get into line, and such tooting and puffing and shouting and yelling you never heard.

Everybody was ready finally, and the starter rang a bell and away they all went.

It was very exciting. All the automobiles whizzing away so fast that all you could see for awhile was a great cloud of dust. But when the cars reached the other side of the pond and started to come back, it was plain enough to see that Ringtail Coon's yellow racing car was leading, with Wally Woodchuck's right behind him.

By the time Markie Muskrat came along, the dust was so thick again, no one could see exactly where he was.

"I suppose Markie is at the very end," said Mrs. Bunny to Mrs. Cottontail. "I hope they have a booby prize to give to the poor little fellow."

There's that poor Markie! He's getting ahead! Hooryay! And Mrs. Bunny completely forgot her dignity and threw her pocketbook up into the air and caught it as it came down.

Whizz!

Another great cloud of dust passed the watchers.

"That was the second time around," said Mrs. Cottontail breathlessly. "Just four more times to go. It looked as though Ben was ahead, Blossom. It is between him and Ringtail Coon, I think, although Daddy Cracknuts isn't far behind and Mister Porcupine keeps coming right along. There's that poor Muskrat boy again. Right at the tail end."

But the next time the cars came around there was too much dust to see anything. No one could tell who was ahead.

"Oh, dear!" said Mrs. Bunny. "I am so excited I can't sit still."
